JAPANESE AVIATOR'S PLANS TO FLY FROM HONOLULU TO YOKOHAMA

(United Press.)
Honolulu.—Mr. Harry Y. Sanada, Japanese aviator, hopes to fly from Honolulu to Yokohama in May 1930, he declared here recently while en route from the Orient to Los Angeles. The aviator spent two years as pilot with the late Chang Tao Lin, Manchurian commander, and has been flying for almost eight years, he told interviewers.

Mr. Sanada proposes to use a Curtiss seaplane in the flight, which would call for one stop at Midway Island, 1,100 miles from Honolulu. From Midway to Yokohama is approximately 2,350 miles, which would call for over-water flying all the way.

With Mr. Sanada will be either J. Kubota or T. Otsawa, Japanese pilots whom he trained in the United States. These men are now in California.

Mr. Sanada, who formerly managed flying schools at San Francisco and Wilmington, according to his declaration, will work out full details of the flight after he arrives on the Pacific coast.
The projected flight will represent the first that has ever been attempted.

AMERICAN CHARGED WITH ASSAULT. SHOT AT TRESPASSING BUFFALO HERD.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

A gnat sentence of 30 days and two fines of $250 each on two charges of assault and battery were passed on Frederick W. Schlobohm, prominent in Shanghai sports circles by Judge Milton D. Purdy in the U.S. Court for China.

Schlobohm was given five days grace to settle certain business matters before entering the U.S. gnat on Whangpoo Road.

The charges against him were of having shot and seriously wounding a Chinese woman, and having shot a Chinese youth, with an Austrian air rifle, carrying a pointed slug, on the afternoon of August 5 as the result of an altercation with the boy who was alleged to have been trespassing on his property on Hung-jiao Road near the golf course. He was represented by Mr. C. P. Holcomb and the U.S. District Attorney, Dr. George Sellett, appeared for the prosecution. Schlobohm pleaded guilty.

Question of Grazing Privileges.

It was brought out in evidence that the accused had a large piece of property on Hungjiao Road and had had frequent differences with Chinese living in a village near by who used the plot to graze their buffaloes. He had protested to them and their contention was that they had made certain arrangements with the previous owner whereby the grazing privileges were to remain theirs in the event of sale.

Finally the accused had caused a fence to be put up, but this did not suffice to keep the intruders out.

On the afternoon of August 5 he had driven out to the ground with the air rifle in the back of his car. He found a Chinese youth with three buffaloes on his land and he called on the youth to leave.

The boy showed some hesitancy about going. He was holding one of the animals by a rope, another was free and the third was tethered by a ring in the nose.

After further warning and feeling that the boy was taking his time about vacating the land, the accused fired the air rifle several times in his direction striking the boy. Other of the slugs struck the animals and there was a general exodus from the property.

Woman Badly Hurt.

A crowd had meanwhile collected outside the enclosed space and one of the bullets struck a woman in the right breast. She thought little of the wound but after several days suffered considerable pain and on appealing to the Lester Memorial Hospital learned that she had an infected breast and the slug was still imbedded. Dr. Gullerath operated and removed the object and she recovered.

Mr. Schlobohm said that he had made several attempts to settle the affair for $15 each but the negotiations had fallen through as a Chinese lawyer became interested in the case and also the Chinese authorities.

His appearance in the U.S. Court for China followed, and sentence was passed as given above.

DEAN INGE ON THE WAR.

ALL SINNED. ALL MUST REPENT.

Over two thousand people crowded into St. Martin-in-the-Fields recently to hear Dean Inge address the League of Nations Union.

A large part of our work may be summed up in the words "lest we forget," said the Dean. "No one talks about war now, and a generation of young people is growing up who know nothing of those four terrible years. I welcome those two terrible German war books and that fine play, 'Journey's End.' All who read these will know what war seen at close quarters actually means. No reader will ever help to provoke another war.

"We never met with anyone who wished for war with England. Yet millions of men who a week before were enjoying their ordinary life were hurled against each other in war. Now, it seems as if we were all mad together.

"If there is another war, both sides will endeavour to exterminate non-combatants by means of poison. While this possibility is present, the less we talk about progress the better. In making the peace," said the Dean, "we ought to have offered our late enemies terms which even they thought exceptionally generous, and then there would be no thought of revenge. That would have been the Christian method—to overcome evil with good.

"We must help our friends and enemies to show their best selves by showing our best selves. We discovered this in the economic sphere, we must find it now in the moral sphere. The real Germans are not barbarians, but men like Kant and Beethoven.

"The gate of repentance is not closed. All sinned, all suffered, and all must repent."

MOTOR-CAR'S SKID INTO CROWD.

THRILLS AT HILL CLIMB.

One man was injured and many spectators had narrow escapes from death or injury when a car crashed during the Midland Automobile Club's open hill climb at Shelsley Walsh, Worcestershire, last month.

The car was driven by Mr. H. B. Showell, and while going at a very fast speed it skidded on a sharp left-hand bend, shot sideways across the course, hit an eight-foot bank, and dashed into the crowd. A man was struck by the bonnet of the car and carried before it as the car plunged fifty feet down the far side of the bank. The driver was flung from his seat and fell in a clump of bushes, but only received slight cuts and bruises.

Showell, although dazed and suffering from shock, carried the injured spectator, Mr. G. Belcher, a photographer's assistant, to the road for conveyance to hospital. Belcher was suffering from injuries to his head and legs.

Mr. M. S. Turney, another spectator, escaped injury by lying flat on the ground as the car hurtled over him.

"It was the closest shave I have ever had," the driver said afterwards. "I had no time to do anything. The car shot right across and hit the bank before I could right it. I was powerless, hanging on to the wheel as the car shot into the air and crashed over the bank. I just saw in a flash the crowd, flying trees, and the sky, and then I was flung from my seat."

Mr. Turney said: "I felt the car shave the top of my head as it went over me while I was lying on the ground. During those seconds I saw the whole of the underneath of the car pass by inches over my face, and for a moment I thought I must be killed."

After the accident the competition was held up for a time while spectators were cleared from this part of the course.

SIR HUGH CLIFFORD IN COLOMBO.

NO FIXED PLANS FOR THE FUTURE.

Colombo.—When Sir Hugh Clifford passed through Colombo on board the P. and O. s.s. Karmala, Mr. Ladyship was too ill to come ashore, but Sir Hugh spent some time at Queen's House where he met Sir Herbert Stanley and accepted His Excellency's expressions of sympathy.

Sir Hugh, interviewed said: "I am sorry to say that Lady Clifford is very dangerously ill, though so far she has stood the sea journey from Singapore very well. "She has a doctor and a nurse in continual attendance on her on board," Sir Hugh added, "and they are very satisfied with the manner in which she is maintaining her strength."

"It was only a week ago last Saturday that her medical adviser at Singapore deemed it a matter of life and death that she should leave for England on the following Friday."

"As the law of the Colony in the Straits Settlements does not allow a Governor to take leave more than once in any period of two years, and as it was quite imperative that I should accompany Lady Clifford, I had no alternative to resigning from office."

"I need hardly say that I am leaving the East with very great regret, and I should like to take this opportunity on behalf of Lady Clifford, and myself to bid goodbye to our many friends in Ceylon and to thank them for the many tokens of goodwill and sympathy they have shown to us."

"I need not say that Ceylon and all its people will always have my warmest good wishes for their continued happiness and prosperity. I shall always very gratefully remember the many acts of kindness that were shown to me when I relinquished my appointment as Governor of Ceylon two years ago."

"Sir Hugh said he had no fixed plans for the future. He was too concerned with the health of Lady Clifford, and everything of course would depend on that."

COUGHS, COLDS, AND CHILLS.

PEPS DISSOLVED IN THE MOUTH WILL SHIELD CHEST & LUNGS.

At this season, it is most important to guard against colds and chills, and any weakening of chest and lungs.

Don't neglect the first shivery feeling, sneezing attack, or hoarseness in the throat. Make it a habit to suck a Peps tablet in the mouth every now and again. This is the surest and quickest way to end trouble in throat or bronchitis.

As Peps dissolve in the mouth, certain healing Pine Forest balsams are released in the form of fumes. Mixing with the breath, these Peps fumes are carried to the innermost recesses of the chest and lungs. Thus, Peps disinfect the throat and soothe and heal the membrane lining of the air tubes. They free the breathing organs, and quickly end any soreness, inflammation, or irritation. They loosen phlegm, stop the most persistent cough, strengthen weak chests and have a beneficial influence on the whole bronchial system.

For night chills, coughs, sore throat, laryngitis, bronchitis, catarrh, and other ailments of the breathing organs, of children and adults, Peps are most beneficial. Sold in handy sealed bottles of all medicine dealers. Full directions enclosed.

HUMOUR: ANCIENT AND MODERN.

Magistrate (to prisoner): "How big was the brick you threw? Was it as big as my head?"

Prisoner: "Yes, your honour, but not so thick."

"And you say you are comfortable in the prison?"

"Yes, I don't have to get up in the middle of the night to see if the door is locked."

She: "Funny no one seemed to realise what a bad egg he was while he was rich."

He: "My dear, a bad egg is only known when it's broke."

Bloggs: "Try this cigar. The brand's wonderful. You can't get better."

Noggs: "I tried 'em yesterday—and I can't get better."

Little Tommy (relating his adventures at the Zoo to vicar): "I didn't see all the animals, though: when we got to the 'Black-and-White' and 'Red Seal' daddy went in by himself."

"What, asked Miss Jones of one of her pupils: 'do we mean by the word plural?'"

Betty responded promptly: "By the plural of a word we mean the same thing, only more of it."

Husband: "My dear, a doctor says women require more sleep than men."

Wife (suspiciously): "Oh?"

"Yes: so—er—perhaps you'd better not wait up for me to-night."

A visitor to the office of a big firm was struck by the lazy movements of an elderly member of the staff, who seemed, all the same, to be on good terms with the others.

"How long has that man worked for you?" he asked the manager.

"About four hours, I should say."

"Indeed, I should have judged from his manner that he had been here longer than that."

"He has," said the manager. "He's been here about two years."

Excited man, rushing into solicitor's office: "Is this where they swear people?"

Commissioner for oaths: "Yes, What can I do for you?"

"I want to take an oath never to put down another carpet!"

Newly-married Wife: "Darling, I've just discovered that I put furniture polish into this sauce by mistake."

Accommodating Husband: "Never mind, dearest. It will go beautifully with the cabinet pudding."

"Well," said the hotel manager, "you say you have no dog, radio, phonograph or children. You seem to be the ideal tenant that the owner is looking for."

"I don't want to keep anything from you," said the prospective tenant. "My wife's new shoes squeak a bit."

The inebriated gentleman was standing on the pavement in the pouring rain. "All right, sir," inquired the young policeman.

"Qui, or ri, oc' sher," replied the gentleman. An hour later the policeman returned. The gentleman was still there. It was still raining.

"Do you live here?" said the officer kindly. "Give me your keys and I'll open the door for you."

"No," said the gentleman firmly. "Let the blighters wait."

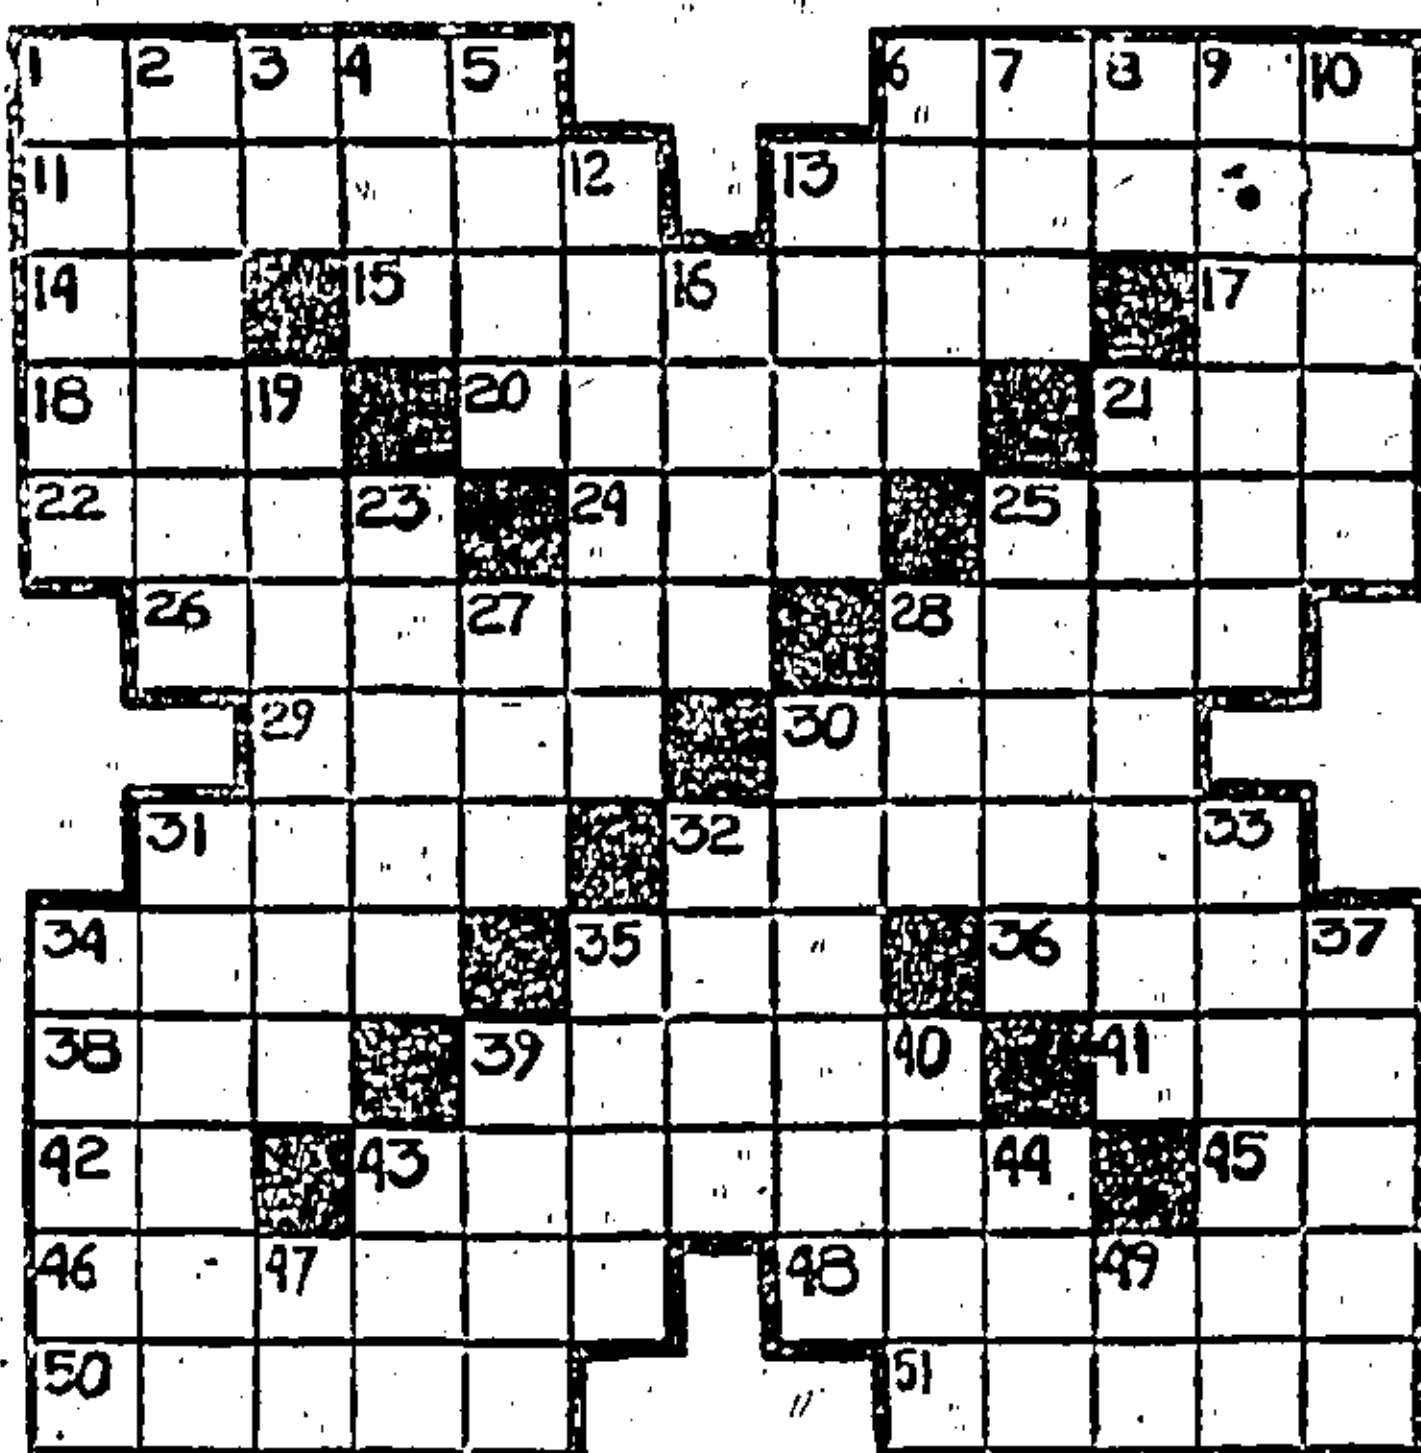

An excited crowd of Aberdonians had gathered in the railway refreshment room and were discussing a rumour that the London-Aberdeen express had been involved in a serious accident.

"Dear me," exclaimed a man standing near by, "this is a veritable bad business. My wife was on that train." As he turned away a newsboy entered the room selling a special edition containing the news.

"Here," cried someone to the man whose wife was on the train, "aren't ye goin' to buy a paper and get the details?"

"Na, na," replied the other. "I'll wait for the final edition and get the racing results as well."

SUBURBAN HEIGHTS—STARTING HOME FIRES

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

PICTURES AND PLAYS.

"The whole subject of religion and drama is most absorbing and therefore dangerous," exclaimed Sir Philip Ben Greet when he contributed to a lively discussion that took place at the Memorial Hall, Farringdon-road, E.C., after Mr. Fred Ensmann, a professor of religious drama and literature from Chicago University, had spoken on "Religion and Drama." Sir Francis Younghusband was chairman of the meeting, and as the tendency of earlier speakers had been to discuss a constructive policy for the union of religion and drama, Sir Philip's words came rather like a bombshell. "I do not believe in plays being acted in churches," said Sir Philip, emphatically. "A play to be acted in a church must be absolutely suitable. A church is not a place for a play nowadays. In olden days, when the church was the only centre where people could be gathered together, it was another matter, but to-day we have much better places for plays." He deplored the tendency to "modernise" the Bible in plays to be acted in churches, and said: "Let us have no modern Josephinas or Benjaminins in our churches."

Under the Greenwood Tree, the new talking picture produced by British International Pictures, Limited, is described as an adaptation from Thomas Hardy's story. Having seen and heard the film, one can understand what a comprehensive term "adaptation" can be. Alterations and adjustments are obviously necessary in a task of this kind, but it is an interesting point whether the producers are entitled to achieve their results by turning a literate inside out.

The difficulty of the producers may be recognized, for life in Mellstock must have been an ambling affair, and ambling is the one thing which the talkie will not tolerate. There must be action and, if it is not to be discovered in the written word of Hardy, other hands must be found to supply it. It is here that the film falls between two stools. When it ambles there are many touches of the real Hardy. The grief of the Mellstock instrumental choir at its suppression by the "new fangled" organ, the singing of Christmas carols, and the choir's New Year's Eve celebrations are all delightfully portrayed. Just as one begins to think that the producer has succeeded in interpreting Hardy in a new dimension the process of adaptation begins. On the screen Dick's love for Fancy Day has indeed become a chequered affair, in which the heroine is snatched from the arms of Churchwarden Shiner only at the church door. It was decreed, apparently, that there must be a moment of pictorial sensation, and this has been obtained by putting Fancy, in her wedding dress, in a runaway gig, from which she is rescued by the heroism of Dick Dewey, who had given her up for ever. This is good screen melodrama, possibly, but scarcely what the readers of Hardy might expect. The Vicar of Mellstock, by the way, has become a very subordinate figure. There is no mention of his love for Fancy, or of her momentary promise to marry him.

But we are prepared to forgive the producers much for their glimpses of Mellstock itself and of its instrumental choir. To see Mr. Penny extracting weird music from the serpent d'église, to see the half-witted Lad Leaf enjoying the delights of a faded musical-box; to see Reuben the tranter carting the organ through the village—to enjoy, in fact, glimpses of the Wessex of half a century ago atones for a great deal. All the same, it is disturbing to think that even a Hardy film is not regarded as complete without a pictorial sensation of some description.

A great wave of economy has swept over the English Hollywood—Elstree—home of British International Pictures. More than twenty percent of the staff at the Elstree studios have received notice that their services will not be needed at least for a few months. Some 150 persons were affected, including several department heads. Even the chief of the publicity department was considered dispensable. The talkies are to blame of course. The English Hollywood has been very busy catching up with its talkie programme, now that it is apparent over here that the squawks and sobies have come to stay. No more silent films are made at Elstree. The output in recent weeks has been sufficiently far above normal to keep the distributing organization busy for several months. So production has been slowed down while the surplus is being worked off. Several silent pictures which were made while the British industry was whistling "Sonny Boy" and wondering what to do next have been made into talkies. Normality is expected to return to Elstree in about three months, when output should be at a permanent level. British International sound studios are available for letting to other companies who wish to use them for talkie production.

AUTUMN SHADES FOR STOCKINGS.

BY A. COLOURIST.

We can buy cheap stockings or dear stockings to-day and, if we consider colour, be ultra-smart in either. The flesh glaze and yellow shine that draped our legs a year ago are decidedly old-fashioned now. And no wonder! Who could cultivate slowness in them?

Our hose, in future, will be coloured and designed to suit the seasons.

The autumn shades are darker than ever; more beautiful, consequently. Browns, especially those of the nigger family, rule the roost. Dago is a shade of light reddish brown that is assured of great popularity. It suits the subtle curves of feminine calves and heightens the graceful slim silhouette.

Revolving round this reddish brown are a number of finer shades all striking a slightly different individual note. Oak, of the genuine English autumn landscape glow, Fontaine, an earth shade, New Brown, a wonderful modern conception of the dreamiest of Rembrandt's masterful browns, and Ourson, representing the energetic shade of a young bear's skin, all create a perfect delight in the finishing touch to autumn colour ensembles.

More pleasing still is the fact that such entrancing colours will enhance the appearance of our legs at any period of the day. Make no mistake, the rest of the stocking colours I propose to mention are dyed specially to suit either morning, afternoon or night, or for fickle weather elements.

For example, there are a number of extra dark browns on the autumn colour chart. Sable is one of the loveliest. The shade's capacity, is to suit a daylight brown costume crowned with the popular sable fur. Certainly it does not suit any of the fashionably coloured evening gowns or dance frocks. Afghan is a decidedly dusky brown. It does one invaluable service—obliterating the murky mud-spashes of dripping pavements.

A group of morning browns is sure to be much sought after. These shades are specially adapted for business wear and early morning shopping expeditions. Their fashion names are Stone Marten, Omer, Florence Mills, Perratin, Gansle, Autumn, and Brunette. See, however, that they match shoe, costume and hat.

Stocking colours for evening wear follow the gown. They are suited to the fashionable subdued tones. Marron-Glace is the most delicate. Grey also takes on the subdued evening motif. Among the best are beaver, stone and beige. Rose Troupe and Lilac Nude look exceedingly well at the dance. Another dance colour is a lovely pinkish shade called Mulberry Rose Glow.

Gibbs Dentifrice keeps teeth safe and sound.

Men and women with perfect, beautiful teeth realise how wise Mother was to teach them about Gibbs Dentifrice in Nursery Days.

Then, as now, they loved the clean refreshing taste of Gibbs Dentifrice.

Into every crevice and interstice of the teeth, the flood of fragrant antiseptic foam penetrates—to clean away everything that could cause decay. Into corners no toothbrush could reach, Gibbs Dentifrice goes—cleaning safely, surely. And the natural pearly lustre of the teeth is brought out by the gentle polishing agent that never scratches, not even at the danger line where teeth meet gums.

For men, for women, for children—Gibbs Dentifrice is safe, sure, wholesome.

Besides it's so handy. Easily packed, tidy—never spills. Buy your case to-day.

REGISTRATION OF MUI TSAI.

GOVERNMENT PROCLAMATION AND INSTRUCTIONS.

A proclamation by H.E. The Governor in the current Gazette announces that Part III of the Female Domestic Service Ordinance, dealing with the registration of mui-tsai, will come into operation on December 1, 1929. The date has been fixed by His Excellency with the advice and consent of the Executive Council.

Accompanying the Proclamation are a number of Regulations made by the Governor-in-Council, as follows:

1. Registration may be effected at the office of the Secretary for Chinese Affairs, or at the office of the District Officer at Tai Po, or at any police station. The register shall be kept by the Secretary for Chinese Affairs.
2. The particulars required on registration shall be those specified in Appendix A, so far as they can reasonably be ascertained, and the finger prints of the mui-tsai shall be recorded in the register.

Forms to Fill Up.

3. The registration form, when filled up, shall be read by or to the employer, or shall be interpreted to him if he is unable to read or understand English sufficiently well, and shall be signed by the employer.

4. As soon as may be after registration, identification tickets, in English and Chinese, for the purpose of facilitating future reference shall be given to the employer and to the mui-tsai, and the said tickets shall be carefully preserved by them and shall be produced by them on the occasion of any subsequent application or report. The ticket given to the employer and to the mui-tsai shall be in the form given in Appendix B.

The Employer Has to Report.

5. (1) The employer shall make and sign a report upon:—
(a) the death of the mui-tsai;
(b) the disappearance of the mui-tsai;

(c) any intended removal of the mui-tsai from the Colony whether temporarily or permanently;
(d) any change of address of the mui-tsai or the employer;
(e) the intended marriage of the mui-tsai.

(2) Any such report may be made at the office of the Secretary for Chinese Affairs, or at the office of the District Officer at Tai Po, or at any police station, provided that if no identification ticket is produced any such report must be made at the office of the Secretary for Chinese Affairs.

(3) Any report as to the change in the actual employ of a mui-tsai, by reason of the death of the former employer or for any other reason, may be made at the office of the Secretary for Chinese Affairs, or at the office of the District Officer at Tai Po, or at any police station. The mui-tsai must be produced on any such report.

Payment of Mui Tsai.

7. Every mui-tsai of or over the age of 10 years and under the age of 15 years shall be entitled to wages at the rate of one dollar per month, and every mui-tsai of or over the age of 15 years shall be entitled to wages at the rate of one dollar and fifty cents per month.

8. The employer of any mui-tsai, whenever called upon by the Secretary for Chinese Affairs to do so, at any place and time specified by the Secretary for Chinese Affairs. The registration form contains:—
Serial number,

Registration Forms.

The Registration Forms require the following information to be given.

Date of registration,
Name of mui-tsai in English and Chinese,
Address of mui-tsai,
Age of mui-tsai (1),
Name of father of mui-tsai in English and Chinese,
Name of mother of mui-tsai in English and Chinese,
Native place of mui-tsai,
Name of employer in English and Chinese,
Address of employer (2),
Occupation of employer,
When mui-tsai first employed by present employer,
Signature of employer.

(1) The date of birth must be given if known. If only the age is given it should be stated whether it is given according to Chinese or English reckoning.
(2) To be given only if different from the address of the mui-tsai. Attention is also called to a section of the 1923 Ordinance which reads as follows:—
Every employer of a mui-tsai shall provide such mui-tsai with sufficient food and clothing of a reasonable kind, and, in case of illness, with such medical attendance as such employer might reasonably have been expected to provide for his own daughter.

Children Cannot Be Bought or Sold.

A final note adds:—
According to the law of Hong Kong, children cannot be bought or sold, and the payment of money confer no rights whatsoever of property or possession over any child.

BROADCASTING.

LOCAL TALENT ASKED FOR.

LETTER FROM MATILDA HOSPITAL.

The following announcements were made at the concert broadcast on Saturday evening from the Government Radio Station:—

The Broadcasting Committee desire to extend their hearty thanks to all those who have assisted at concerts since the opening of the Studio. They are still anxious to secure all possible talent and hope that anyone who can contribute, musical items or short interesting talks on any subject, will communicate with the Programme Secretary.

Commercial News.

The commercial news broadcast daily would seem to be serving a useful purpose, and is being taken in at Canton and various coast ports.

Church Services on Sunday will continue to be a leading feature of our programme, and efforts are being made to broadcast at hours suitable to all.

Monday, Armistice Day, the ceremony at the Cenotaph will be broadcast.

To-night, for the first time, we have amongst our listeners the patients at the Matilda Hospital. This has been made possible by an arrangement, come to between the Naval and Military Y.M.C.A. Committee and the Naval Authorities, whereby each contributed to the cost of the installation of 40 head phones and four loud speakers.

It is hoped a similar arrangement may shortly be come to with the military Authorities in respect of their Hospital.

Matilda Hospital.

As you are no doubt aware the Matilda Hospital has for some time past been receiving our programme, and the following letter from Doctor J. Howard Montgomery, resident surgeon of the Matilda Hospital, cannot but prove of particular interest. He writes:—
"As you know Radio has been installed in the Matilda Hospital for a period of six months, so that we have had a good opportunity to test its value and efficiency.

"I have no hesitation in saying that from a Hospital point of view it has been an unqualified success. The patients enjoy it more than anything else in the way of recreation and amusement, and they look forward eagerly to the times when music is available. The Church Services are particularly appreciated, and come through very well indeed.

"With the thanks of the Staff and numerous Patients to those who have been helping to bring the Broadcasting to its present high standard.—Yours sincerely, J. HOWARD MONTGOMERY."

A high class receiving set has been presented by twelve local gentlemen to the Y.M.C.A. Naval and Military Committee for use at their "Cheer O" Depot at the City Hall, which will be a valuable addition to the entertainments at present provided there.

The "Kiddies Hour" is proving perhaps one of the most popular items of our programme, and the Committee are much gratified at the reception given to the entertainments provided by Aunt Joan and the Uncles. The membership of the Fairy Circle grows day by day. Membership cards have been distributed and all little listeners will be welcomed into the circle.

Aunt Joan will be pleased to receive from parents any special messages they would like broadcast to their little ones.

THE CANOSSIAN INSTITUTE.

SUCCESSFUL CHARITY FAIR.

The annual Charity Fair of the Canossian Institute was held on Saturday and yesterday at the Italian Convent, 38, Caine Road. It was attended by large numbers of people on both days, and was in every way a success.

The opening ceremony was performed by Mrs. H. T. Creasy, wife of the Hon. Director of Public Works, in the presence of a large gathering, which included His Lordship, Bishop H. Valtorta, D.D.

Mrs. Creasy said that she regarded it as an honour to have been asked to open the Bazaar. The excellent work done by the Canossian Institute was well-known to all, not only here but in many other places. The nuns deserved every assistance in their good work, and Mrs. Creasy asked those present to spend freely at the Fair.

M.O.L. Contribution.

It was a great pity that the Ministering Children's League were not holding their Fair this year. They annually made a contribution of $1,000 to the good work of the Italian Convent, and she sincerely hoped that they would receive their contribution as usual. She had great pleasure in declaring the Fair open.

The Stalls.

The principal stalls in the hall were "Toyland," a veritable children's paradise, the bargain stall at which many useful articles were offered at 49 cents each, and the embroidery stall where hand made linens of every description was to be found. In the grounds were various side shows which proved a popular feature and were well patronised. The St. Louis Band was in attendance both days.

4. Song Mrs. Younghusband.

BUY A FLANDERS POPPY!

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place, and in the Sky
The larks still bravely singing, Fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead, Short days ago,
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

JOHN McCRAE.

The foe is now poverty, disease, disablement—the bitter aftermath of war for so many of its direct and indirect victims. The Poppy Day fund stand as a barrier, stronger every year, between those who have no other help and the slough of deepest despair.

THE FLOWER OF REMEMBRANCE.

BROADCAST ADDRESS BY HON. MR. W. E. L. SHENTON.

THE ORIGIN AND MEANING OF POPPY DAY.

CABLE FROM EARL JELlicoe.

On Saturday night a special address by the Hon. Mr. W. E. L. Shenton was broadcast from the Government Radio Station, in order to win interest and support for "Poppy Day." To-day the "Flowers of Remembrance" will be on sale in the streets and on board all ships in the harbour.

The broadcast address which we print below sets out clearly the meaning and origin of Early Haig's Appeal Fund to augment which the Poppies are sold.

The following cable has been received by the local branch of the British Legion from Earl Jellicoe, G.C.B., O.M., G.C.V.O., President of the League:—

"Gratefully remembering help given to Poppy Fund in past years by sympathisers in Hong Kong and associated districts I earnestly and confidently appeal for even more generous support on this coming eleventh anniversary of armistice. The need of beneficiaries of the fund is most urgent."

—JELlicoe.

A DAY WITH A DOUBLE SIGNIFICANCE.

In his address, Mr. Shenton said:

I have been asked by our Broadcasting Committee, and invited by Earl Haig's British Legion Appeal Fund, to address you in reference to the Poppy Day appeal, which takes place on Monday next.

The concert we are broadcasting to-night has for its sole purpose the furtherance of that object and the unanimous desire of those who are assisting with the performance is that their efforts may contribute in some measure to making Poppy Day in this Colony an even greater financial success than in any previous year.

Remembrance and Retrospection.

The 11th of November in each year, being the anniversary of Armistice Day, has been selected as Poppy Day, and that day in each year has been set aside as a day of remembrance—a day for retrospection—it is a day which has a double significance.

Firstly it is the day of the year when every member of the British Empire offers up thanks for the cessation of hostilities in the Great War, and connotes the safe deliverance of our Empire, and all it stands for, from the greatest catastrophe the world has ever known. Secondly it is that day of the year when every member of the British Empire particularly calls to mind not only those, near

The name of Lord Haig needs no disquisition from me, for it is a household word in every part of the Empire, it is symbolical in the mind of every ex-active service man or woman, of one, who having called for the supreme sacrifice, did not afterwards forget those who answered that call.

The British Legion.

Earl Haig's British Legion Appeal Fund is the benevolent organisation of the British Legion of which His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales is Patron and Earl Jellicoe, the President and Chairman of the Benevolent Committee.

It is the Benevolent Committee who make themselves responsible for the Poppy Day collections. Last year the Poppy Day collection amounted to a sum of no less than £500,000, but a sum of £1,000,000 is wanted, to provide for the vast number of calls, the Committee has to meet.

How the Funds are Used.

The funds collected are used in connection with one or other of the benevolent activities of the British Legion, which include the alleviation of distress amongst ex-service men of all ranks, their dependants, and the widows and children of those who fell, also such essential service as finding employment for them and the giving of assistance and advice on pension questions, also the granting of loans free of interest, thus enabling them to set up in business on their own account. It also provides means to enable ex-service men and their families to immigrate and it gives free legal advice on housing, employment and similar matters.

The funds collected are distributed among the following organisations:—

- The British Legion General Funds, whose general objects are as I have already stated.
- The British Legion Officers' Benevolent Department, whose special object is the care of a large number of disabled officers who need periodical assistance, and in helping ex-officers to obtain employment. It also assists in the education of their children.
- The British Legion Relief Department, whose scheme is the co-ordination of the relief work of the British Legion and United Services Fund. It also extends its help to deserving ex-service men irrespective of whether they are members of the Legion or not.
- The British Legion of Scotland, which administers its funds independently.
- The British Legion Sanatorium and Settlement who are responsible for the British Legion Villages at Preston Hall and at Papworth which are the only two villages of the kind in the whole world, and are a combination of a sanatorium and an industrial home.
- The British Legion Poppy Factory, which employs about 275 ex-service men, who are employed in the manufacture of Poppies for Armistice Day, and who between November 12, 1927, and Armistice Day, 1928, delivered no less than 25,303,775 Poppies for sale.

A Special Effort.

It will thus be seen that Poppy Day calls for a special effort from all of us—not only does the purchase of a Poppy give employment to some disabled ex-active service men but it also provides money for other benevolent objects—it is therefore incumbent on all of us to do the best we can to make Poppy Day on Monday next in this Colony a great outstanding success.

And lastly let us not forget when he or she purchases a Poppy that—

"In Flanders fields the poppies grow; Between the crosses, row on row,"

"IRONSIDES" STILL ADVANCING.

PING LOK FALLS WITHOUT STRUGGLE

UNRELIABLE KWANGSI GENERALS.

No real attempt is now made in Canton to deny the seriousness of the "Ironside" menace. A naval wireless message states that the "Ironside" have taken Ping Lok, some 60 miles south of Kweilin and only 130 miles from Wuchow. At the end of last week even the fall of Kweilin was denied.

As far as can be gathered the "Ironside" victories have been gained more by "diplomacy" than hard fighting. Reports are current that at least two Kwangsi Generals, Yang Teng Fai and Wong Kuen, offered no resistance to Chang Fat Fu's forces and "tamely withdrew as the enemy advanced. It is also believed that Chang has sent a dispatch to Lui Woo Im, the Kwangsi Commander-in-Chief and head of the Government, declaring that Kwangtung and Canton are the "Ironside's" sole objective and that if Kwangsi offers free passage the province will be left unmolested. General Lui is said to have ignored the message.

TWO LINES OF "ADVANCE" HELD UP.

Some colour is lent to these reports owing to the fact that while the "Ironside" are advancing in three bodies only one section of the operations have been successful. The first "route" under Wu Ki Wei has made Wuchow its objective and has advanced, as stated, as far as Ping Lok. This leaves Chaping and other cities open to attack.

The second "route" under Li Han Wen, the "Ironside" second-in-command, is striking at Liuchow, and the third "route" under Tang Lung Kwang, is attempting to enter Ling Yang and the Little North River district. So far neither the second nor the third routes have met with any success. The attacks near the Kwangtung border were effectively repelled by the Cantonese troops and the "Ironside" are reported to be retreating towards Lingchuan. On the Liuchow front the situation is unchanged, showing Li Han Wen has made no progress.

THE LINE REINFORCED.

Meanwhile General Chen Tsai Tong is taking active steps to meet the menace to the centre. Large bodies of troops are arriving at Wuchow from down river and strong defences are being constructed at Li Po, Siu Yan and other points on the Siu River, between Liuchow and Ping Lok. This is to prevent the capture of Liuchow by a turning movement and some of Chen Tsai Tong's best troops are being entrusted with this task. It is here that a decisive battle is expected. The Commander-in-Chief is personally directing operations on that section, having arrived there on Saturday by aeroplane.

At present the "Ironside" are still waiting at Ping Lok for Li Han Wen to take Liuchow by himself and then join the centre section for a drive either direct at Canton, or more probably on Wuchow. The Canton reinforcements arriving at Wuchow are said to be Colonel Tsoi Kit's regiment which was engaged in the East River district campaign against the Reds. Press gangs are also busy at Canton and 500 coolies were "caught" and "enlisted."

GRAND SCALE FORGERS.

SEVEN PRISONERS BEING TRIED.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

CANTON, Nov. 10. The seven alleged forgers rounded up in Honan a couple of days ago are being tried in the Police Court to-day. The authorities are trying to exact information from them which may lead to further arrests. No sentence has been pronounced yet, but no doubt they will be "very severely dealt with."

A complete set of machine for forging not only Central Bank of China notes, but also those of Chartered Bank, and other British banks in Hong Kong was found. The whole outfit has been brought to the Police Station in Canton. Some $400,000 Central Bank of China notes have been forged, but the number circulated is not known.

REDS RETREAT INTO KIANGSI.

The Canton Press states that, much to the relief of the people in northern Kwangtung, the Reds under Chu Tse and Mo Chak Tung have been driven out of the Province. Following their defeat in Muhsien, the Reds fled to Pingyuen and thence to Hunan, in the southern borders of Kiangsi. The Kiangsi troops under Tan Yao Yuen in northern Kwangtung have been pushed to Kiangsi to deal with them.

TWO CHINESE WEDDINGS.

MR. KWOK SIU LAU'S SON MARRIED.

DR. KOTEWALL'S WITTY SPEECH.

Two big Chinese weddings were celebrated on Saturday, both of which are of local interest. Miss Minnie Lee, fifth daughter of the late Mr. Lee Kan Tung and Mrs. Lee Kan Tung, was married by the Rev. H. V. Koop at St. John's Cathedral, to Mr. Wong Sik Chung, fourth son of Mr. Wong Kam Fuk, J.P., who is a brother-in-law of Sir Robert Ho Tung. At the home of the bridegroom, Marlingford, Robinson Road, Miss Gertrude S. W. Chan, the eldest daughter of Mr. Chan Lim Pak, married Mr. Kwok Siu Lau, the second son of Mr. Kwok Siu Lau, the well-known philanthropist.

MISS M. LEE TO MR. WONG SIK CHUNG

There was a large attendance of friends and relatives at the Cathedral when Miss Minnie Lee was married to Mr. Wong Sik Chung. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Thomas Lee, looked charming in a dress of ivory charmeuse and lace trimmed with orange blossom. She carried a bouquet of anemones and maiden-hair fern.

The four bridesmaids, the Misses Rose and May Lee, Beatrice Choo and Florence Lim were pretty frocks of mauve and yellow georgette, the flower girls, the Misses Eileen Lee and Madeline and Gladys Cheung wore primrose yellow satin. Master Lawrence Lee, as page boy, was dressed in mauve satin. The bridesmaids carried sheaves of gladioli, and the flower girls baskets of white roses.

Mrs. Lee Kan Tung, the bride's mother, wore a picture Chinese ceremonial gown, brightly coloured and richly embroidered in gold.

The duties of "best man" were carried out by Dr. K. W. Chan, whilst Mr. C. K. Kwok was the groomsman.

The Reception.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Hong Kong Hotel Roof Garden, a large number of guests being present. The toast to the bride and groom was proposed in a very witty speech by the Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall, C.M.G., M.D., who said:—

I seem to be in some demand as what the Chinese call Lucky Old Man at weddings lately! (Laughter.)

Last Saturday I had the pleasure, of proposing the principal toast at the wedding of a good friend, and to-day I am performing the same pleasing duty at the wedding of a son of an equally good and much older friend. (Hear, hear.)

If I charged a fee for the job, I should be doing a fairly good business at this time of the year, having within the last few days had, on account of previous engagements, to decline two similar invitations, much to my regret. (Laughter.)

Chip of the Old Block.

Though I do not know the bridegroom intimately myself, those who do tell me that he is a wonderfully good business man—in fact, a chip of the old block. (Applause.) I have known the old block for about 25 years!

I do not know whether the bridegroom is as "telling" in his talk as his father, but he has certainly inherited his old man's disarming and winning smile. I have a shrewd idea that that smile of his has had much to do with his winning the charming lady now standing by his side! (Laughter and applause.)

The Bride.

The bride I have known from the time when she was a pupil at St. Paul's Girls' School. In those days she was a vivacious, pretty little girl, popular among all in or outside her school.

I know that there must have been a dozen young fellows eager to throw themselves and their fortune at the dainty feet of winsome Miss Minnie Lee; but the fact that she has given her heart to Mr. Wong Sik Chung speaks volumes for the young man's good qualities. (Applause.)

It is an ideal match, and I know that they will be happy for ever. Ladies and gentlemen, I now ask you to drink with me to the good health and long life of Mr. and Mrs. Wong Sik Chung. (Loud applause.)

Later Mr. and Mrs. Wong Sik Chung left for their honeymoon which will be spent travelling in Japan, and later to Shanghai.

MISS GERTRUDE CHAN TO MR. KWOK CHAN.

The wedding of Miss Gertrude S. W. Chan, eldest daughter of Mr. Chan Lim Pak, to Mr. Kwok Siu Lau, second son of Mr. Kwok Siu Lau, took place at the home of the bridegroom, Marlingford, Robinson Road, before a large gathering of friends and relations. Among those present were His Excellency Sir Cecil and Lady Clementi, Major General J. W. Sandilands, Officer Commanding the Troops, and several other distinguished guests.

HOLLYWOOD ROAD AFTER DARK.

YOUNG MAN WHO MADE A MISTAKE.

WARNED BY THE BENCH.

According to a story told by a young girl at Central Magistracy to Mr. A. W. G. H. Grantham on Saturday, she was molested on Friday night while walking in Hollywood Road.

After making some purchases from a shop in Lyndhurst Terrace she went towards Hollywood road, when she noticed that a young Chinese was dogging her footsteps. Near Queen's College, the young man drew up to her and holding her by the wrist, asked if she was at leisure. She screamed and cried out "Save Life!" and a constable quickly arrived on the scene to place the young man under arrest.

The young man, a draughtsman in the employ of the Hong Kong Electric Company, had a different story to tell. He said that the girl passed him in Aberdeen Street and they glanced at each other as the girl overtook him. He then happened to cough and this apparently so annoyed the girl that she turned round and struck him. He then told her that she would have to give a reason for doing so or go to the Police Station and at this the girl cried out "Robber, Robber."

On behalf of the defendant, Mr. Horace Lo produced a letter from defendant's employers, testifying to his good character. Mr. Lo added that defendant was the father of five children and it was not likely he would go about molesting young girls in the streets.

After hearing Inspector Murphy, who said that Hollywood Road at that time of the night was notorious for "night walkers" and that it was quite likely that the defendant had made overtures to the girl; his Worship registered a conviction and administered a caution. It was quite likely, said the Magistrate, that the defendant had committed the offence. Knowing Hollywood Road and those who haunted it, the complainant had thought that the complainant belonged to the community of street walkers. It was also quite likely that the complainant had struck the defendant as alleged, but the fact that the defendant had committed the offence could not be overlooked.

KOREAN AND HIS CHINESE WIFE.

WOMEN'S THEFT OF 33 WATCHES.

T. Malutka, a Korea living at 30 Jordan Road, Kowloon appeared as complainant before Mr. T. S. Whyte Smith at Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday, against his Chinese wife, whom he charged with stealing 33 silver and gold watches valued at $200.

Detective Sergeant Fitches was in charge of the case and told the Magistrate that the complainant had a jewellery shop. He married the defendant and after two months she went back to the country. She returned last Friday and following short conversation, the husband went out on an errand. During his absence the women took 33 watches from the shop, but was arrested at the Mongkok Ferry Wharf by a Chinese detective, who noticed her carrying a parcel in a suspicious manner.

Detective Fitches said that the police did not think the woman was in her right mind. His Worship remarked that it was like sending a woman to prison for using her husband's money. He discharged the woman and requested the police to send her back to her people.

Wife's Friends All Robbers.

The complainant told the Magistrate that his wife's friends were all robbers and they would attack and kill him. The Magistrate explained that there were sufficient police in the Colony to protect him and that he had only to blow his police whistle and he would get all the assistance he wanted.

Road, before a large gathering of friends and relations. Among those present were His Excellency Sir Cecil and Lady Clementi, Major General J. W. Sandilands, Officer Commanding the Troops, and several other distinguished guests.

The bride was charmingly attired in white satin with silver embroidery and carried a bouquet of white lilies of the valley with maidenhair fern. She was attended by three bridesmaids—Misses Pearl Choo, Agnes Chan and Margaret Chan, who were dressed in pink net lined with satin and trimmed with silver. They carried bouquets of pink flowers. The flower girl was Miss Chan.

Mr. Kwok Yan, brother to the bridegroom officiated as "best man." The bridal pair are not spending their honeymoon out of the Colony on account of pressure of business.

and dear, who passed on in the great cause, but also all who fell in the great Armageddon.

It is the occasion to make a special effort to insure that those who fought and are still with us to-day, and the dependants of those who fell are not only not forgotten, but are assisted in every possible way.

Hence Armistice Day has been chosen as Poppy Day or the Day of Remembrance, and the Poppy of Flanders, is known as the Flower of Remembrance.

Earl Haig's Appeal Fund.

Now what is Earl Haig's British Legion Appeal Fund on behalf of which I am making this appeal to-night? It is an organisation which had its inception in the personal efforts of the late Field Marshal Earl Haig, that great national hero, who, having contributed all he had to give to the great cause, whose efforts having been crowned with success, and on whom a grateful nation desired to bestow high honours, in the words of Major General Sir John Davidson, spoken in the House of Commons, "refused to accept any honours until he saw the men and officers were being properly and adequately treated."

HONG KONG, NOVEMBER 11, 1929.

WHAT—AND WHOM—TO REMEMBER.

TO-DAY is the eleventh anniversary of the conclusion of the greatest attempt ever made by humanity at self-annihilation. For more than four years men of a dozen nationalities waged war upon each other, and the record is written in the blood of the slain and the tears of the bereaved. Hundreds of books have appeared, in different languages describing aspects of the "glories" or the horrors of that fearful struggle—but, the one stark fact still stands out that millions of men were killed, and many more millions cruelly maimed—hundreds of thousands being condemned to a living death by injuries to body or faculties beyond the skill of surgery or science to remedy or repair.

The British Empire's casualties during the war numbered 1,069,919—and let it not be forgotten to-day, here in the great British port of Hong Kong, that this figure includes 15,883 members of the Merchant Navy who lost their lives owing to enemy action during those four years and more of madness. And let it be remembered, too, that over 50,000 officers and men of the merchant service were engaged in actual naval work of an exceedingly important and dangerous nature. The total loss in killed of all nationalities was about ten millions; the wounded numbered more than double that figure; the heartbreaks are as far beyond calculation as the tears and curses of the non-combatant men, women and children whose sufferings were the more pitiful because of their being so utterly helpless. It is within the means of every reader of these lines to do something to-day—however little it may seem—to relieve the sad distress which unfortunately still exists among so many ex-service men and their dependants. The claims of "Poppy Day" have been already eloquently pressed upon the community; we have now simply to remind our readers that the day is here—the eleventh anniversary of one of the greatest events in history.

The armistice actually began to take shape on November 7, when a deputation of German officers in motor-cars crossed the lines and said they wanted to speak with Marshal Foch about peace. Telegrams began to issue from Foch's headquarters which then happened to be in a sleeping-car on a siding in the Forest of Compiègne. The outposts were warned to watch for a white-flagged delegation the next day, which was to call on Foch. According to the late Marshal's story, the Germans arrived promptly, bearing credentials from Prince Max of Baden. It was at this meeting that Foch made known the Allied terms, and gave Germany seventy-two hours to think it over. The German delegation, however, wanted immediate peace. "Our armies are in a desperate situation," declared Herr Erzberger, who headed the delegation. "We want the fighting to stop now, this minute." Foch replied that the Allied Armies could not be stopped so abruptly, but that the Germans had the terms, and if they were acceptable, they could so inform the Allies within the stipulated three days.

The rest is well-known. Foch subsequently admitted he was in a nervous state on the night preceding November 11. At two o'clock in the morning he was awake in his private car, awaiting the Germans. They arrived early, and at 5.15 a.m. the Armistice was signed. More telegrams shot back and forth along the front, and the anticipated order to suspend hostilities was flashed along the lines. "It does not take a vivid imagination to picture the state of the troops, both those going to the front and those being relieved, when the expected 'cease fire' order actually arrived, and the last salvo roared through the valleys of death. Foch was already in a motor racing for the War Ministry, where he deposited the Act of Armistice with CLEMENCEAU, saying to that grizzled and still unsatisfied old veteran:—"Monsieur le President, my work is finished; your work begins!" In precisely the same terms the men who lined the trenches, who patrolled the seas, could say to those for whom they had been fighting: "Our work is finished, your work begins." The work of the war unable to look after themselves. That work is being done by—among others—the British Legion, whose urgent appeal for help can be generously answered by buying poppies.

To-day almost the whole civilised world for two brief minutes will abandon its work and its play, standing still in solemn remembrance of that tremendous moment eleven years ago when the great world slowly began to come to its senses. Nearly four years previously there had been a truce—an unofficial one—along the Western front. On Christmas Eve, and on Christmas Day, in 1914, British and German soldiers clambered out of the mud and misery in which they were slowly freezing, and helped bury each other's dead—the shattered bodies abandoned in No Man's Land. This done, the friendly "enemies" exchanged pathetic little gifts of cigarettes and chocolate, and then slowly separated, each to their own trenches, in readiness to renew the slaughter "in accordance with pre-arranged plan."

Only once was such a truce observed at Christmas; fraternisation of that character was sternly frowned upon at both Headquarters, and steps taken to prevent its repetition. Yet it is in the same spirit that Armistice Day is becoming generally observed—not as a day of celebrating victory, nor marking humiliation and defeat; not as a day for making a brilliant military display, but rather as the occasion for demonstrating grateful recollection of all who fell and charity toward those surviving but needing help, and of earnest hopes for the early coming of a day when humanity will be wise enough to realise the madness of its former methods of settling differences between nations.

The author of "All Quiet on the Western Front" has reminded us what that method was, and may be yet again. Can there be one man or woman who, after reading the lurid pages in that book—and in the many others of its kind—does not feel that Armistice Day should be made an occasion of international significance in the development of the peace movement? What Remarque saw behind the German lines others saw in the opposite territory occupied by the Allied forces. After four years of such humanity will say "never again," but something more than mere common-sense is needed—some definite and organised movement by and between the nations to make quite certain that common-sense will prevail when next there comes a serious international disagreement. The evil spirit of militarism is not yet exorcised, but the world moves. Yet while this movement towards guaranteed peace happily gains steadily in strength, we have still with us thousands of poor fellows who, as a result of the hellish ordeals they went through, are incapable of independently earning a livelihood. We have with us, too, thousands of women and children who are in need. It is for all these that we are asked to buy poppies to-day, and we should pay for them as generously as men gave their very lives in the cause they held so sacred.

News and Views.

One Chinese case of diphtheria was reported on Friday.

His Excellency the Governor has appointed Mr. Chan Wai Lam to be Public Vaccinator.

We regret to record the death, which took place at the Peak Hospital on Saturday, of Mrs. Stuart Smith, following an operation. The deceased lady, who was the mother of Mr. W. Stuart Smith, manager of J. R. Michael & Co., was very well known in the Colony, and her death will be much regretted. The funeral took place yesterday at the Jewish cemetery.

In honour of the Indian troops who fell in the great war, Mr. V. Rupchand of the Pioneer Silk Store will lay a wreath at the Cenotaph this morning. The silk store will also allocate a percentage of the day's takings to Earl Haig's Fund, and it is hoped that this excellent example will be followed by other business houses, even though they may not be open to-day.

A telegram has been received by the Shanghai Chinese Shipowners' Association from the Communications Department of the Headquarters of the Commander-in-Chief saying that, with the exception of three vessels belonging to the China Merchants S. N. Co., two of the San Peh Co., and one each belonging to the Ningshao and Ho Fong companies, all vessels which were recently commandeered for the transportation of troops will be released this week.

According to a statement submitted by Mr. Yu Ka Mu, a government investigator to the Shanghai District Magistrate this year's cotton crop in Shanghai is only about 30 per cent. of the normal, whilst rice harvests are even worse. Apropos of the latter, the Kiangsu Provincial Government has ordered the various district magistrates of Kiangsu to raise funds for the purchase of rice which must be sold at reasonable prices to alleviate the sufferings of the poor.

As the result of mediation by the Commission for the Reorganization of Commercial Organizations, the Mayor of Greater Shanghai has agreed to the collection of 60 per cent. of the ante-mortem and post-mortem examination fees from butchers during the next six months and the latter have been ordered to resume business without delay. Originally, it will be recalled, the Greater Shanghai Health Bureau demanded $1 per head for cattle and $1 per head for sheep and goats, which the butchers refused to pay.

A large number of farmers from the neighbouring villages of Peking visited the two days' exhibition of the agricultural products and domestic animals such as cows, sheep, and pigs, of the Yen-ching University agricultural department last week. The exhibition was opened every morning with a few speeches by the chairman of the department, the chancellor and by one of the guests. In the afternoon, the programme included criticism, lectures, tricks and music. Prizes were awarded for the best exhibition of domestic animals and farm products. Specimens of good seeds were distributed free to farmers for trying out.

Siberian Mail Arrives.

The Post Office inform us that the first mail via Siberia, since the service was interrupted, arrived here yesterday. It contained papers and letters from London of October 17 and had been 34 days in transit. Twenty mail bags were received from London.

Canton Radio Office.

The acceptance of radio letters written in plain Chinese or plain English only was officially announced last week by the Canton Radio Traffic Office, Ku Nan Tong East Building, Canton. The NLT radiograms should be of special use for social and business correspondence. It is a "delayed service" and the charges are about one-third of the ordinary rates. The office renders prompt and efficient service, and messages to Hong Kong and Shanghai are put through in from ten to twenty minutes.

Old Customs Must Cease.

The Department of Civil Affairs, says the Canton News Agency, has issued notices to the magistrates of the different districts ordering the cessation of old customs, which are considered injurious to the people. Particular attention is called to Wang Kuang village where it is the custom for unmarried men to seize by force any widows for wives and where the relatives of the widows remonstrated the possessors, have only to offer suitable compensation. Attention is also called to a place called Nam Tso Shing where heavy prices are paid for a wife; and also to Chih Wan district where in the third month of every year a great deal of money is spent by countrymen on sacrifices to the idols. Such practices are to be stopped by the magistrates, who must report on the result of this social campaign.

As the former management of the Paoshan Motor 'Bus Co. has declined to assume responsibility for the resumption of services the Paoshan District Magistrate has transferred the monopoly to a wealthy Chinese resident named Lim.

According to the Shun-pao, an agreement has been entered into between the Chiao Tungpu and the National Aviation Corporation for the carrying of mail by "planes" of the corporation between Shanghai and other places. This will be brought into effect as soon as it is signed.

The formal opening of the Sino-Japanese Fine Arts Exhibition in Shanghai took place in the Hsu Garden in Commaught Road in the presence of a large gathering, which included General Chang Chun, Mayor of Great Shanghai, and Mr. M. Shigemitsu, H. I. J. M. Consul-General.

Beginning last week, the Shanghai-Hangchow-Ningpo Railway collected a communications surtax of 10 per cent. from passengers. This surtax will be collected for a year, permission having been received from the Ministry of Railways. The money will be used for famine relief purposes.

The Shanghai Gendarmerie Commissioner and the Nanking Garrison Commissioner are co-operating in preserving peace along the Shanghai-Nanking Railway, and in addition to the armoured cars already patrolling the line, two others have been ordered from the Woosung locomotive factory.

The Commissioner of Public Utilities for Greater Shanghai has issued an order to landlords throughout the Municipality to install electric lights in all alleyways in order to facilitate police in the performance of their duties and to do away with the possibility of fires caused by gas and kerosene lamps.

A party of Chinese loafers entered a book store at 39, Shantung Road, Shanghai, and smashed two panes of glass valued at $100. According to reports, the store was alleged to have been selling books of a political nature that were not favourable to Nanking and it is said the glass smashing was in retaliation by members of a political party.

The American Consulate General in Shanghai is interested in obtaining information regarding the whereabouts of Mr. Irving Williams and his wife, Ethel Carver Williams, and C. C. Christopherson, and his wife, Marine C. Christopherson. Any particulars regarding the present whereabouts of the above named persons will be appreciated.

General Chang Hsueh Liang, according to the vernacular papers, has telegraphed to the Waichangpu vigorously denying the Soviet allegations that White Russians are being used by the Chinese authorities in the present Sino-Soviet dispute. General Chang says that these are absolutely untrue as he finds it of no advantage to use White Russians.

Since the beginning of the year nearly 100 men and women have sailed from Great Britain to take up work as missionaries in connection with the Wesleyan Missionary Society. At the recent meeting of the Missionary Committee the total income received for the current year was reported as $23,952 for the general work, and $21,921 for the women's department.

According to the Chinese Press, the Chiao Tungpu has forbidden the Kiangsu Commissioner of Reconsolidation to collect the river conservancy tax from native shipowners. The Commissioner, it will be recalled, demanded this levy with a view to deepening Kiangsu's waterways but the merchants refused to pay it and threatened to strike if any attempt were made to enforce it.

Greater Shanghai police have made two arrests in connection with the robbery of $8,000 from the Yung Cham Mahk Factory in Pootung. The money was to be used for the payment of the factory workers. The accused, a former employee of the company and a former member of the Merchant Volunteer Corps, are said to have admitted complicity so they are being detained pending investigations.

Old crooks and young innocents succeeded each other in the dock at Marlborough Street Police Court writes "R. E. Corder," in the Daily Mail, when we had a very busy morning. The polite native of Japan, beamed through large, round spectacles, bowed to the gaoler and to the Bench, and said "Pardon." "Were you drunk?" asked the clerk. "Pardon, yes, sure," replied the Japanese, bowing with all the grace of the Orient. As he left the dock he bowed to the gaoler, who dropped a curtsy.

boat-hooks, they managed to pass a moose over its fore-legs and secure it. It was taken over to Kowloon, where it was shot by Mr. Smith. The animal measured 6 ft. in, from snout to tip of tail, the tail being 3 in. long. It weighed 150 lbs. and had small tusks, being apparently about three years old.—Hong Kong Daily Press, November 11, 1929.

A "YOUNG CHINA" WEDDING.

[FROM A CHINESE CORRESPONDENT]

A very simple but impressive wedding was celebrated between Mr. Chan Ching Kuo, M.A., of Tai Sha University, Shanghai, and Miss Yu Teh Chuen, B.L., of the same University, at the On Lok Restaurant yesterday afternoon. Mr. Chang Lan Chow, headmaster of the Shih Nan College, Booham Rd., officiated and most of the guests were Chinese members of the teaching profession.

The wedding was a shom of Chinese ancient custom but nothing of Western ceremonial was introduced. The ceremony mainly consisting of an exchange of marriage certificates between the bride and the bridegroom and a number of speeches. None of the relations of the principals were present and the wedding was arranged to express the spirit of "individualism" and "young China."

Mr. Chang Lan Chow, who gave the principal address remarked that the marriage between Mr. Chan Ching Kuo and Miss Yu Teh Chuen showed that the archaic Chinese provincialism no longer persisted. The bride was a native of Szechuen province and the bridegroom, a native of Kwangtung. According to the ancient Chinese family idea, marriage was a matter purely concerned with the continuation of the male line. However China was now gradually being modernized and the wave of reform in social life spreading throughout the whole nation. Consequently Chinese young men and young women were very determined to rid themselves of the shackles of ancient custom and ideas. They had realized that they were not only members of a family or a tribe but also members of the nation and of human society as a whole. Mr. Chan and Miss Yu held this idea very strongly and were expressing its spirit in their marriage ceremony.

PREMIER'S TRIBUTE TO HIS DAUGHTER.

"GETTING AT AMERICA'S MIND."

[THROUGH REUTERS' AGENCY.]

LONDON, Nov. 9. "I could have done the work I did, and I could not have carried through the duties placed upon me; I could not have got hold of the American mind, had it not been for her," was the Prime Minister's striking tribute to his daughter Isabel, when they were welcomed home by the National Labour Club. Mr. McDonald, in a speech, said that when he told the Americans that Britons had inherited a sentimental leaning with regard to the Navy, he was very timorous regarding the effect, but he received letters next day expressing thanks. Explaining the point he said "That means that the American people are understanding us." The great world movement towards disarmament had begun well.

Looking Back 25 Years.

Concerning the important question of currency reform in China, it is, and must continue for some time to be, doubtful whether the scheme for the establishment of a national coinage on a gold basis will be adopted by the Imperial Government of Peking. . . . Meanwhile the veteran Viceroy Chang Chih Tung has followed up his criticisms of Sir Robert Hart's now well-known recommendations on the subject of the reform of the currency by sending in a strongly worded memorial to the Throne against Professor Jen's financial proposals for a gold standard for China, in which he declares that such a step would, instead of promoting commercial prosperity, cause financial disaster to the country. What grounds he gives for these statements we are not told, but probably the chief among them is the novelty of the project, and possibly the fear that the gold would be quickly drawn out of the Empire. It is to be hoped, however, that the Imperial Government will not listen to Chang Chih Tung. He is evidently both timid and prejudiced. Why should China any more than Japan be depleted of her gold because she chooses to place her currency on a gold basis? So far from disaster following the financial change in the land of the Rising Sun, the reverse has been the case.—Hong Kong Daily Press, November 11, 1904.

Looking Back 50 Years.

A wild boar was caught yesterday morning swimming from the mainland in the direction of Stonecutter's Island. Mr. J. H. Smith, of Messrs. Blackhead & Co., and Mr. Koch were in a steam-launch, and observing the animal in the water they stood after it and succeeded in passing a rope round its body, by which it was hauled on board. It was much exhausted and remained quite quiet for some time, but by and by feeling refreshed from its rest, it became rather lively and the occupants of the launch thought it prudent to retire to the top of the house. From this point of vantage, with the aid of (Continued on preceding column).

SAVAGE FIGHTING
IN THE NORTH.CORPSES "MOUNTAINS
HIGH."

A CRITICAL PERIOD.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, Nov. 9. Reuter's Hankow correspondent states that according to Chang Chih Chung who returned from the front by aeroplane on Thursday evening, Chiang Kai Shek has moved his headquarters from Hanchow to Yuchow. He will personally direct the front line operations.

As far as can be ascertained the main line of the Kuomintang forces extends from Lushan through Pao-feng and Kiahshien to Miehien, while strong forces are concentrated at Nanyang and Yungkuang with Chumai and Laohokou the respective objectives.

A number of troops of the Fifth Division arrived at Hankow from the front and were transferred to Wuchang for "training purposes."

It is learned that the Generalissimo's own army, who hitherto have been held in reserve, are now being drafted into the front line.

It is officially claimed that Miehien has been recaptured from the Kuomintang by Chiang Kai Shek's crack personal forces, comprising the First and Second Divisions, and the victors are now driving on to Fengfeng.

It is stated that the fighting at Miehien was of a very fierce nature, and corpses are heaped "mountain high."

Fierce Fighting.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 9. Hankow is again witnessing feverish troop movements to-day, and every available man is being withdrawn from the Hupoh garnison towns, and being sent up the Kin-Han Railway. The situation at the front is evidently serious.

Independent sources now deny the capture of Miehien, stating that the Kuomintang are still holding the city, despite repeated onslaughts by Government crack divisions. The losses on both sides are reported to be enormous.

Generalissimo's Return.

HANKOW, Nov. 10. The Generalissimo returned here quietly by train to-day, and is at present in conference with local commanders.

It is stated that he is ready to return to the front by plane at a moment's notice, should the situation need his presence. Owing to a strict censorship, very little is known about the situation at Hanchow, but very fierce fighting has so far been going on in the Miehien vicinity.

KIDNAPPERS ACTIVE IN TIENTSIN

RUSSIAN GANG SUSPECTED.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

TIENTSIN, Nov. 9. There is at present no further news of Mr. Aaron Brenner, a partner in the fur firm of Brenner Brothers, who was the victim of a daring kidnapping on Thursday night.

The exact details of the outrage are not yet established, but the first intimation came in the shape of a letter handed in at the Kissling Cafe, stating that Mr. Brenner had been kidnapped.

Written in the victim's hand, the letter stated that the gang demanded $500,000, and outlined the arrangements for payment, and release.

The police have arrested a Russian woman recently seen in the company of Mr. Brenner, and it is suspected that the perpetrators are a large gang of well-dressed Russians recently operating in Russian and Harbin.

Reports yesterday indicated that the ransom had been reduced to $300,000, and even the name of the person the money may be entrusted to is mentioned. American Consular officials are co-operating with the police of both the Concession and special areas in an attempt to trace Mr. Brenner.

The whereabouts of Lo Chen, Jardine's compradore, who was recently abducted by three kidnappers, remains obscure.

PIRACY ON THE YANGTSE.

CHINA MERCHANTS' BOAT
HELD UP.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, Nov. 9. The China Merchants' s.s. Kwang-chi, with a large number of passengers and a full cargo, when returning to Shanghai from Wenchow, was pirated on Wednesday last, and released on Friday.

From the meagre details available it appears that the pirates, following the established methods of piracy, boarded the vessel disguised as passengers. They suddenly overwhelmed the crew, looting the vessel.

The officers are safe, although all money and clothing was robbed. One passenger was wounded. The ship is little damaged.

PUNISHMENT FOR WAR.GEN. SMUTS OUTLINES
NEW SCHEME.

A RHODES LECTURE

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Nov. 9. The need for a general convention supplementary to the Peace Pact was urged by General Smuts in a Rhodes Memorial Lecture at Rhodes House, Oxford, to-night.

He suggested that the convention should clearly define private and public wars, and place the aggressor in a private war in a position of an outlaw, depriving him of all rights under international law.

General Smuts defined a private war as one waged by a party for its own national purposes; and a public war as one in which the State was involved, not for its own individual ends, but for police purposes with others in the pursuance of public policy under an instrument like the League Covenant.

He contended that the Peace Pact only covered private war.

One Great Service.

The suggested convention would solve the one great outstanding Anglo-American problem, namely, the question of freedom of the seas. If the aggressor were made to forfeit all rights of commercial relations while engaged in a private war the question of neutral rights would be revolutionised, and the doctrine of freedom of the seas cease to be of practical importance.

An even more important result of the proposed convention would be to make economic sanctions under Article XVII of the League Covenant workable, with the co-operation of the United States, since outlaw under the Peace Pact would generally be identical with the aggressor being boycotted for breaching the unanimous decision of the League.

It was further suggested that "an aggressor" might be defined by the Conference of all the Powers in the interested area where the danger threatened, on similar lines to the conference provided for by the Pacific Ocean Pact at Washington in 1921.

Mr. MacDonald and the League.

LONDON, Nov. 9. There were two distinctive features of the Lord Mayor's banquet at the Guildhall.

The first was the fact that most of the speakers had not attended the banquet before. The second was that most of the Cabinet Ministers were wearing simple evening dress instead of levee dress. Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, who given a great ovation, reviewed the Government's efforts to effect an international understanding. He paid tribute to Dr. Stresemann and Mr. Briand and also to the League of Nations, whose "frown would soon be more dreaded than a nation's arms."

He said that he wanted to get Russia to help to bring Europe into a unity of peace and declared that India was perhaps the most important issue before the Empire. The purpose of the Viceroy's recent announcement was in no wise to alter the existing policy but to revive a spirit of mutual understanding.

Mr. MacDonald explained that he visited President Hoover because he believed in personal contact. The result would be a Naval Conference in London, at which he ventured to say the question of freedom of the seas would not be raised. He hoped most sincerely that a Dominions Economic Conference could be held, as Mr. Mackenzie King wished, in Ottawa.

PRIEST CAPTURED BY "COMMUNISTS."

$10,000 RANSOM ASKED.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, Nov. 9. Father Ulrich Kreutzen, an American, has been made captive by "Communists" at Weiyuenkow, twenty miles below Hwangshih-kang (in Hupoh). The captors demand $10,000 ransom from the Mission.

Threats of Torture.

HANKOW, Nov. 10. Details of the capture of Father Kreutzen were given by his "boy," who has arrived here with a letter from the captors to the Mission demanding $10,000 ransom.

It seems that Weiyuenkow was attacked at dawn on Friday by over 100 Communists, who routed the small garrison, and looted the town. Remnants of the defenders sought refuge at the mission, to which the Communists followed, and made prisoner Father Kreutzen. The letter states that should the money not be forthcoming in four days the priest will be tortured and killed.

The Mission has applied to the Foreign Ministry here, and military assistance is promised to effect a release.

Communists are very active in S.E. Hupoh, owing to the withdrawal of the bulk of the troops to the front, and it is learned that the safety of the towns Hwangmei, Kwangtai, Shihweiyao, Hwangshih-kang and Tsyeh are momentarily threatened.

ARMISTICE DAY IN AMERICA.CEREMONIES IN NEW YORK AND WASHINGTON.

[United Press.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. The eleventh anniversary of the signing of the Armistice will be solemnly observed throughout the United States to-morrow with appropriate ceremonies.

Promptly at 11 a.m. to-morrow traffic throughout this city will pause for two minutes in memory of those who lost their lives in the great conflict. Governors of the various States of the Union have issued proclamations calling upon the people to observe this two minute silence at eleven.

New York's official celebration of the day will be observed at the Eternal Light in Madison Square, where Mayor James Walker will address a gathering of World War veterans and representatives of various patriotic organizations. Wreaths will be placed at the foot of the Light by the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Salvation Army, and other organizations.

President Hoover will visit Arlington, the National Memorial Cemetery at Washington and place a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Throughout the day numerous organizations will make their annual pilgrimages to the tomb and place wreaths on it. "Taps" will be sounded over the grave at eleven. By nightfall the Unknown Soldier's resting place will be covered with innumerable wreaths and flowers.

The National and Columbia broadcasting systems, along with other independent stations, will devote the greater part of their programmes to Armistice Day features. Old war-songs will be revived, speeches made by men and women in all walks of life eulogizing those who gave their lives for their country. Various short sketches depicting or relating to the war days will be sent out over the air.

The late Myron T. Herrick, former United States Ambassador to France, who contracted a cold while attending Foch's funeral and died a few days later, will be honoured both in Ohio, his home State and final resting place, and in Paris in remembrance of his war time activities in behalf of the French people.

The grave of Woodrow Wilson, the war-time President, will be decorated by various organizations and friends who knew and remember him for his fearlessness in guiding the destinies of the United States during the struggle. Special services will be held in his memory at Princeton University, where he once served. Mrs. Wilson will participate in the ceremonies in Washington, where she now resides.

PACIFIC CONFERENCE
OVER.

"CORDIAL ATMOSPHERE."

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

KYOTO, Nov. 9. The Third Biennial Conference upon Pacific Relations closed to-day in a very cordial atmosphere. At the closing luncheon the visiting delegates expressed satisfaction over the result of the frank discussions of not only academic matters but delicate political matters; and also at the furtherance of friendship by daily personal conferences.

A souvenir was presented by the foreign delegations to the Japanese, as an appreciation of their hospitality.

Despite the friendly atmosphere created amongst the Chinese and Japanese delegations in the last few days, the proposal to establish a board of conciliation and investigation of Sino-Japanese relations was finally abandoned, because the matter requires a further conference, while the present conference is terminating to-day.

It was announced that the next conference will be held in China in 1931.

JAPANESE ESTIMATES
PASSED.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

TOKYO, Nov. 9. The Cabinet has approved the estimates for the coming fiscal year. They amount to 1,908 million yen, which is a 184 million decrease from the current year.

Details include Navy 283 million, Army 212 million. This is the first time since 1916 that no loan is contemplated.

QUEEN OF SPAIN IN LONDON.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RENOY, Nov. 9. The Queen of Spain, accompanied by the Infanta Beatrice and Infanta Christina, arrived in London by special train last night. She was met at Victoria by the Queen, the Prince of Wales, and the Spanish Ambassador.

PRINCE TALKS TO HEROES.NOTABLE GATHERING IN LONDON."HOW MEN GET THE V.C."

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

ROBRY, Nov. 9. To-night's dinner in the Royal Gallery of the House of Lords, when the Prince of Wales will preside over a gathering of 320 holders of the Victoria Cross, will be an historic occasion, for it will be the largest gathering of V.C.'s ever held. There are 450 surviving holders of the decoration, and although many have come from overseas, those not attending the dinner are mainly absent through inability to make the long journey to England from the Dominions and Colonies. In Australia, for instance, 45 holders of the Victoria Cross unable to come are being entertained in the Commonwealth by Governor-General Lord Stonehaven and the State Governors.

The remarkable reunion results from a desire to be the guests of the Prince of Wales, and to help in a national appeal for ex-service men, and widows and dependents of ex-service men, who may be in necessitous circumstances.

Invitations are extended to all holders of the Victoria Cross, and not only those who won the decoration in the Great War. Thus Col. Reynolds, aged 86, and Private Williams, aged 81, who won the Victoria Cross at Rorke's Drift, South Africa, in 1879, and General Sir Reginald Hart, who won his in the Zulu Campaign of the same year, and is now 81, will be present. The youngest will be Private Ricketts from Newfoundland, who by giving the wrong age managed to enter the army at the age of fifteen, and won the V.C. when he was 17.

Every guest present will have performed some act of outstanding courage, initiative, or self-sacrifice on land or sea, or in air, and all the Services will be represented in the toast list. Thus when the Prince proposes the guests, those who will respond will be Lieut. Commander Auten on behalf of Naval V.C.'s, Sergeant Spackman for Army V.C.'s, Colonel Bishop for Airmen V.C.'s, and Colonel Pearkes of Canada for Overseas V.C.'s. Immense public interest is being taken in the event.

A Dramatic Occasion.

LONDON, Nov. 9. As comrades greeting comrades the Prince received his V.C. guests at the House of Lords, who, wearing lounge suits and medals, were cheered by enormous crowds outside Saint Stephen's.

All met on a common level, and there were several unofficial reunions between guests and ex-Servicemen waiters.

The Prince proposing his guests' health, received a storm of cheering. He said that it was not the national habit to invite men to dinner to tell them how brave they were, so he assumed they did their heroic deeds from motives of self-preservation, or because they noticed someone on the staff watching. "I suggest this because every V.C. I have talked to always dishes up this sort of explanation."

Referring to titles and other decorations the Prince suggested the title of the "most enviable order of the Victoria Cross." A message of greeting was received from the King, who accompanied by the Queen, attended a performance of "The Second Mrs. Fraser" at the Haymarket Theatre.—Reuter.

BRITAIN AND EXTRALITY.

TO ATTEND FURTHER DISCUSSIONS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Nov. 8. Reuter understands that the British Government has informed the Chinese of its willingness to send representatives to a meeting on November 19 to discuss extra-territorial rights.

At the same time it is pointed out that the British Government considers the present system should continue until the Chinese legal code is on a level with Western standards.

Other interested Governments have made similar communications.

BANK FOR WAR DEBT
SETTLEMENT.

DETAILS AGREED ON.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BADEN-BADEN, Nov. 9. After five weeks' deliberations, the organising committee of the International Settlements Bank have practically agreed upon all points. A decision that its headquarters should be in Switzerland was reached, in the absence of the Belgian delegates, who wanted it to be in Brussels.

Later. The International Bank will be established at Basel, because there are excellent railway, telegraph and telephone communications.

EUROPE'S PEACE
PROGRAMME.ARMISTICE DAY'S DOUBLE
SIGNIFICANCE.ALLIANCES AND TREATIES OF FRIENDSHIP.

[United Press.]

PARIS.—The eleventh anniversary of the Armistice, which ended history's greatest war, finds Europe at length launched on a firmly established programme of peace.

It took scores of so-called peace conferences, reparations conferences, ministerial parleys and tentative drafts and treaties, running into more than ten years of international diplomacy for the Allies and the central powers to finally arrive at something approximating an agreement.

The Young Plan.

Although the culminating peace effort was the Young Plan and its resultant conference at the Hague, the terms of which are still to be ratified, there seems to be little doubt now among European statesmen that this achievement will succeed. During the last year, France ratified its American and British War Debts, which the virtual adoption of the Young Plan made certain. Germany acquiesced to the terms of the Young Plan, though its head delegate Dr. Schacht.

By this capitulation to the Allied diplomats and financiers, Germany gave a substantial victory on the Rhineland. Occupations question: The Rhineland will be free of Allied soldiers five years before the time limit fixed by the Versailles Treaty. This is, of course, dependent on Germany's goodwill regarding prompt Young Plan payments, and on Germany's submission to total disarmament.

Armistice Day, 1929 thus will have a double significance for Europe. It will recall the joyous, delicious day of ultimate victory, and it will remind people likewise that the world can continue to labour in undisturbed peace.

The commitments of these last conferences will most likely be observed, except that future years will see one major problem confronting European chancelleries; that is, the union of Austria with Germany. Although France resolutely discourages any attempts toward this union, it is a frequently observed throughout the Press that this union is inevitable, if the Central European nations are to be expected to live in any state of solvency or happiness.

Austro-German Union.

With the League of Nations functioning, there is no reason why the union of Austria to Germany should be the cause of another conflict. France and Italy will certainly prolong this event, but it seems inevitable that they cannot stem the tide of racial sympathy which flows between Germany and Austria.

Perhaps Germany will continue to agitate against the Versailles Treaty. Perhaps the Young Plan may be paid grudgingly, but with the present solidarity among the Allies, there seems to be little likelihood of any warlike enterprise here in Europe. Alliances and Treaties of Friendship have been signed on every hand. France has them with Yugoslavia, Poland, Rumania, and others. Italy has fewer treaties of Amity, but is slowly working up diplomatic alliances which may eventually preclude any fight with France.

The Briand-Kellogg pact, also embraces most of the important nations, and thus the United States, although not technically involved in European affairs, has a tremendous moral interest to uphold, in keeping peace established.

The effect of this so-called liquidation of the war in Europe, it seems cannot help to influence to certain extent the amiable settlement of the dispute, which now smoulders in the Far East, between China and the Soviet Republics.

SCANDAL IN BELGRADE.

DIPLOMATS COME TO BLOWS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BELGRADE, Nov. 8. In the course of a quarrel at a fashionable hotel, in the Yugoslavian capital to-day, between the Italian Air Attache, Colonel Cassona and a Serb, Colonel Cassona, according to reports of the incident, struck the Serb, who retaliated by striking Cassona in the face.

The affair has caused great excitement, and the Italian Minister, Signor Galli, called on the Foreign Secretary, M. Marinkovich in connection with the incident. It is feared that it will further embitter relations between the two countries, already tense as the result of the sentences recently passed on Serbian students by the Italian authorities.

JAPAN'S EMPEROR.

ANNIVERSARY OF ENTHRONEMENT.

[United Press.]

Tokyo, Nov. 10.

Hirohito, 124th Emperor of Japan "in the Unbroken Line," was enthroned with solemn and ancient ceremonies in Kyoto a year ago to-day. Newspapers recalled the event and minor celebrations held to-day. There is nothing in the nature of an official holiday, however. The Emperor, it is understood, will spend the day much as usual occupied with his official duties.

The Emperor began his reign officially on the death of his father, the late Emperor Taisho, at 1.25 a.m. on Christmas morning, 1927. The anniversary of the Enthronement, hence, is not the anniversary of the inauguration of the era of Showa, the name chosen by Hirohito for the term of his rule. The Enthronement, while a deeply religious ceremony in the Shinto faith, in reality constituted little more than a public declaration to the people and to the world that a new ruler had ascended the Throne.

Both the Emperor and Empress have been in good health ever since the Enthronement ceremonies last year. They spent most of the summer in their villa on the sea, about two hours by motor from Tokyo, and have made their residence as usual this winter in Chiyoda Castle, Tokyo.

MR. STIMSON "GETTING IN SHAPE."

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.

In preparation for the arduous task as head of the American delegation to the Naval Conference in London, Mr. Stimson has been undergoing a three weeks intensive course in American Naval policy, under the supervision of the general board of the Navy.

Telegrams in Brief.

President Hoover has announced that the United States Budget for 1930-31 will amount to 3,830 million dollars, which is 111 millions less than last year.

The condition of Frau Zoubkoff is still "very serious." Nobody is permitted to see her. The whereabouts of her husband are unknown, although it is believed he is a waiter in Luxembourg.

Further conversations between the Cabinet's Coal Committee and the Mining Association, and Miners' Federation will take place on Tuesday, when it is understood the safeguarding of wages will be the principal subject of discussion.

The airship R101 on Friday left the mooring mast at Cardington, which is just outside Bedford, and made a short tour of the neighbouring country. She had on board the Mayor of Bedford and other members of the Municipal Council.

The big earnings of the pilots of London are disclosed in returns issued. Pilots number 105 and of these, seventy-six are Channel pilots, and their average earnings are £1,342 a year. Sixty-nine are Cinque Port pilots, 48 North Channel pilots, and two home trades pilots and their average in each case is over £1,000 a year.

Lord Passfield, Secretary for the Colonies, has appointed Sir John Campbell, late of the India Civil Service, and recently in charge of the settlement of Greek refugees in Macedonia, to the post of Economic and Financial Adviser in the Colonial Office. This was vacated by Sir George Schuster's departure to India to take up the appointment of Finance member of the Governor-General's Executive Council.

HONG KONG v. SHANGHAI

COLLAPSE OF HOME SIDE.

FINCHER'S FINE DEFENCE.

SHANGHAI LEAD WITH 5 WICKETS IN HAND.

Shanghai had the best of the opening day, on Saturday, of the Hong Kong-Shanghai Interport. The Home side were dismissed for 114, of which E. C. Fincher made 53, and the visitors by careful play put on 131 for 5 wickets.

A full description by Mr. R. Abbit of the day's play follows:—

The day was rather dull and overcast when Brace and Fincher went in to open for Hong Kong, after Hancock had cheered up the local people by winning the toss. Brace faced Wilson from the Law Courts' end as usual. The breeze was from the North-West luckily, not North-East (one writes, it is to be feared, as a partisan). Brace was lucky not to touch the fifth ball at which he played, and took a quiet single from the last ball. The Doctor went on at the Yard end and three singles came. Brace and Fincher stopped to argue in the middle of the pitch about a single next over, but they both got home all right. Still, it made the spectators a bit nervous! Fincher sent the ten up with a good hook off a very short ball from O'Hara, and later drove O'Hara hard for four to the off but one run later a disaster happened, as Brace played the ball on to his foot, and it slowly rolled on to his wicket before he could recover. Shanghai apparently were in luck again! It was a tragedy for the home side.

Another Victim for the Doctor.

Pearce shaped more confidently against Wilson than against the slow merchant, and after a hard boundary to extra cover he tried to cut a wide one going away and only just put it short of Rawthorne at backward point. The batsmen were very quiet evidently trying to keep the wicket going until the gloss was off the ball. A confident appeal for l.b.w. from Wilson was negatived and Pearce got a beautiful four to long leg later. But at 29 he paid the penalty of being tempted by O'Hara on the off, and put one up to Stokes at cover. It was very sad but not surprising as he had been nibbling at the off trap the whole time. (20-2-11).

Accidents.

Musson, who succeeded, (he was playing vice Reynolds who, could not get away), was dropped at the wicket in the Doctor's next over and celebrated it by off driving him for four. Wilson meanwhile had bowled eight overs for seven runs—mostly to Fincher. He was varying his pace well and had one or two bits of bad luck in just missing the sticks. However he got his wicket just after this, Musson for some reason trying to glide a ball on his middle stump. No doubt it swerved but he ought to have expected that. (34-3-4). Next over Owen Hughes was l.b.w. to a ball from O'Hara which, from the way he played it, he seemed to think had pitched clear of the sticks. (35-4-1).

Collapse Continues.

It is rather curious that the Captains so far have been faced with an awkward situation on going in to bat. Leach went in twice and Braddell once when runs were urgently needed. Hancock had a worse situation to face than any of them but he started on his job in an unperturbed way, and got a beautiful four of O'Hara to extra cover, all along the carpet.

At 45 Leach relieved Torry who had bowled thirteen overs for thirteen runs and one wicket. Again Shanghai had a bit of luck as Hancock who had been playing really confidently played the ball on to his leg and thence it rolled on to the off stick (40-5-7). Anderson came in and after a couple of overs was caught in the slips from a ghastly shot. (47-6-0).

Fincher cheered things up by a three and Richardson by a four, but the latter, though a pretty enough cut, was not too far from first slip's right hand. Two overs later Richardson did more or less the same thing as Hancock. It was bad luck, but it must be remembered that if the ball is played with the middle of the bat when it faces the bowler it cannot roll on to the wicket. Richardson edged it.

should have been caught in the slips but the ball went between first and second slip. It is difficult to see if they are standing too close in or too wide apart, but in view of the number of fours which have gone in the same place during the practice games it looks as though we ought to do something about it.

Changes of Bowling.

Bowler went off then and, as Reid was obviously picked as a medium fast left-hand bowler, it was difficult to understand why he was not put on down wind. Brace went on and did not look very dangerous. Wyatt had bowled very steadily until his eighth over off which he made eight.

Reid then went on at the Yard end and Marshall skied his first to square leg but no one was there and Reid himself nearly got to it. The rest of the over was good save for a long hop on the leg which Madar put to long leg for four. A quick spell ensued, and then Marshall let out at Brace and was well taken at cover by Musson for a nice 52. He should have been out in the slips early on but had played very free and attractive cricket quite unlike his stiff style against Malaya. (78-3-52).

Slow Cricket.

Soon after Howard came in it looked as if Pearce had stumped him very smartly off Reid, but the umpire gave him not out. In Reid's next over Owen Hughes made a fine attempt to take one at first slip going down at full length but though he got hold of it the ball just touched the ground. Few fieldsmen would have touched the catch at all. Reid at this point was bowling very well indeed. Bowler resumed for Brace, and clean beat Howard three times in his first over. Musson went on for Reid, and at 89 tea was taken.

After Tea.

Musson gave way to Wyatt after tea and Madar got a two and a single to leg. Things remained very dreary. Madar snicked a four off Wyatt and Anderson, going on at the Law Courts' end, opened with four wides. He then bowled two maidens and later Howard lifted him for three to mid-wicket. This represented the total of the scoring for about ten minutes. Then the same batsman straight drove Wyatt for four and on drove him for a single.

Another Wicket.

At this period an aeroplane flew over the ground and afforded some much needed interest to the game. Howard then played forward at Reid, missed it and dragged his foot, and Pearce had the balls off like a flash. (129-4-10).

Next over Brace clean bowled Orr for a duck, and things began to look up, until it was seen that Barnes was coming in to play out the last quarter of an hour. (129-5-0). The newcomer however proceeded to hit a couple of singles.

COMMENTARY.

It is no good beating about the bush. Hong Kong certainly had abominable luck in having three men play on, but on the whole it was a display of thoroughly bad batting. Fincher's knock stood out in relief as a fine exhibition of defensive cricket. The wickets were falling steadily at the other end but, recognising his own limitations as a bat, he did not attempt to force the game unduly. He is not, and never will be, a big hitter. He rightly took advantage of the fact that bad balls Shanghai bowled him and gave no chance. He got out finally in trying a big hit off Leach.

Beyond Fincher, to be quite honest, it looked as if the bad luck of Brace's dismissal, and the disaster of Pearce had rather knocked the heart out of some of the batsmen. Hancock seemed always absolutely on-top of the situation until he too had bad luck in playing on. Wyatt did the right thing in trying to go for the bowling, and Bowler was excellent, being quite unperturbed. The last wicket stand was the one bright spot of the innings.

The Wicket.

Of course, to a spectator, the solution at first was that the wicket was a beast, but I am told that, though it took a good deal of turn, it was slow and distinctly on the easy side. But Hong Kong made it look difficult and so did Shanghai with the exception of Marshall.

Shanghai in the Field.

O'Hara's twenty-nine overs straight off for sixty-nine runs and four wickets was a great performance for a man no longer in his first youth—I always forget if he is thirty-four or thirty-five! Wilson's figures speak for themselves, and Leach took full advantage of the situation. It must be many years since 5 for 20 and 5 for 17 have been taken inside three days in an inter-club match.

The catching of Stokes was brilliant but I thought some of the ground fielding was not quite so polished as usual. Probably some of the team in their over-anxiety had gone to bed too early the night before.

Their batting was in and out. Stokes was out to a brilliant catch. Marshall was beautifully free but should have been caught, after he had made about fifteen or so, off Bowler. Madar one supposes had orders to stick, but he was very dull to watch. He took about two hours to get his thirty-nine. Howard never looked much like getting a big score and he was lucky to have stopped as long as he did. Orr tried to stick instead of hit, which is his natural game and paid the penalty. Barnes however, for him, was scoring rapidly when time arrived.

Hong Kong Bowling.

To my mind Alan Reid bowled better than anyone on the home side, and with a bit of luck would have had several more wickets. Bowler was slinging them down very fast and working desperately hard as usual. Brace kept on the short side and gave few runs away. I am a bit doubtful what will happen if he bowls that length to Leach, though of course to a mediocre batsman it is difficult. Wyatt seemed to have no luck and was a bit uncertain, as were Musson and Anderson. I should have liked to see Owen Hughes have had a bowl at Madar about half past four, or at least get him out and I am almost sure his full pitch would hit Barnes's stumps! (This is not a joke).

The brightest thing in the afternoon was the keeping of Pearce. He was really good, making a brilliant catch and two very quick stumpings—one of course not out. There is no doubt in my mind that he is the best wicket-keeper in Hong Kong at present.

Looking Forward.

The game had gone against the Home side of course, but I am not particularly despondent. As one said of Shanghai in their Home trial, our people were so dashed bad that they are bound to take it out of somebody next innings! As long as Donald Leach does not get going too much on Monday, it shouldn't be at all surprising to see them out by five runs, and Hong Kong with a big score on the board by Monday night.

R. ABBIT.

P.S.—Since writing the above, I have been told that full tosses at the top of Barnes' wicket, and every low tick of that kind, have been tried for years and all found wanting!

FRIENDLY CRICKET.

There were two friendly games on Saturday, but apart from a half century by Lyons (R.A.S.C.) in their game with Lane Crawford's XI, there were no noteworthy performances. The match resulted in a draw.

Kowloon juniors entertained the Police Recreation Club, and after some consistent batting by the home team who knocked up 157 for 6 wickets, the Police were dismissed for 81 runs.

CLUB DE RECREIO SPORTS.

PORTUGUESE COMMUNITY EN FETE.

ATHLETIC MEET AT KING'S PARK.

The Portuguese community were en fete at the grounds of the Club de Recreio yesterday when the second annual athletic meeting of the Club was held. The premises and the sports ground presented an animated appearance and favoured with exceptionally good weather a very good day's enjoyment was provided by the athletes.

The sports commenced early in the afternoon and the first excitement to which spectators were treated was when B. Gosano beat his brother by a touch in the 100 yards race for the championship of the Club. C. d'Almada e Castro who won the event last year was third, a matter of a few inches behind the Gosanos.

The 100 Yards Flat Race for Ladies Championship drew eight entries and following an exciting race, Miss Cynthia Silva breasted the tape a fifth of a second before Miss Gloria d'Almada.

Perhaps the best item on the programme was the 440 yards flat race for the championship of the Club. Seven competitors faced the starter, and A. Gosano shot out from the start, leading all the way. A. E. Carvalho was in the rear most of the way but picked up a good deal of distance on the leader towards the close and was less than two yards behind at the finish. C. d'Almada e Castro who won last year was third. It is learned that he left the sick bed not more than ten days ago and was not fit.

The Lighter Side.

Rolling The Bowls, provided a good deal of entertainment as it drew a large entry. A "jack" was laid on an uncut green and points were awarded to the competitors for getting as near the jack as possible. The woods gave competitors no indication on the matter of bias, etc., and it was absolutely hopeless trying to control them. Notwithstanding this handicap, the winner obtained points with each of his four woods.

F. M. da Silva ran a very well judged race to win the half mile championship. He was contented to let his rivals make the pace and confined himself to a burst of speed in the last 100 yards or so, when he completely overwhelmed the others. The second man to finish was A. E. Carvalho, who passed no less than four competitors in the last eighty yards, to get second place.

Of public interest was the Relay Race, open to any team of four in the Colony in which two competitors had to run 220 yards and two 440 yards. The K.O.S.B. won handsomely in spite of one of their men falling and losing about 40 yards. A keen race ensued between St. Andrew's Club and a team entered under the name of Wanderers.

match postponed.

KOWLOON v. H.K. POLICE.

On the Railway ground, the Police maintained their reputation for doing well on this ground when they played a drawn game with Kowloon F.C. The home team were a long time finding their form and the Police put on two goals. The teams lined out as under:—
Kowloon F.C.: G. Angus; Gillett and Pile; Hedley, Dowman and Bliss; T. Pile, Gallagher, Simpson, McKelvie and Miles.
H.K. Police: Estall; Wynne and Howarth; McGreary, Hudson and Jessup; Gowans, Fennell, Johnson, Dr. Valentine and Bentley.

With Johnson as leader of the attack, the Police were early off the mark and from a centre by Bentley, Johnson sent the ball into the net but the point was disallowed. However, before the home team could settle down, Johnson again got the ball and passed Angus from a centre by Bentley.

Crossing over a goal up, the Police got well off the mark and Dr. Valentine put them further ahead with a well placed shot.

Kowloon then settled down to sound work and the Police were hard pressed. They held out until Gallagher got his foot to a centre from Miles and beat Estall. Kowloon were soon back again and Miles drew level with a shot that gave Estall no chance. Both teams tried hard for the winning goal but the defence on both sides held out. The Police obtained their first league point of the season.

CHINA ATHLETIC v. ROYAL NAVY.

At the North Point Stadium, the Athletic defeated the Navy by three clear goals. Suen Kum Shun, the Athletic star forward, scoring all three goals. The teams lined out as under:—
China Athletic: Chan Shek Pui; Ng Kum Chuen and Lai Yuk Tat; Ho Choi Yin, Wong Shui Wa and Lam Yuk Ying; Tso Kwai Shing, Li Hung Ching, Wong Pak Chong, Suen Kum Shun and Chan Kwong Lu.
Royal Navy: Jarvis; Spragg and Carey; Churchouse, Dray and Lambert; Van Tromp, Firth, Gould, Kennedy and Dickinson.

From the kick off the Athletic set up a determined attack, but they found Jarvis in good form in the Navy goal. The Athletic left wing then got working and from a pass by Chan, Suen scored a snappy goal. Again the Navy got close in but Ng Kum Chuen cleared.

Half-time: Athletic 1, Navy 0.
On resuming the Athletic pressed and Jarvis saved from a header by Wong Pak Chong. Another effort by Li Hung Ching was stopped by Jarvis.

A breakaway by the Navy left was held by Ho Choi Yin and the Athletic returning to the attack, Suen rounded Spragg and beat Jarvis with a cross shot. The Navy rallied but failed to score and Suen Kum Shun again beat Jarvis, bagging three goals himself.

K.O.S.B. v. SOUTH CHINA.

With the exception of Cook, the K.O.S.B. fielded the same team that went down to Kowloon last week.
South China: Pau Ka Ping; Li Ting Sang and Lau Mau; Leung Wing Tak, Wong Mee Shun and Leung Wing Chui; Cheung Shui Hong, Chu Kwok Luen, Yee Chuck Wa, Ng Po Kui and Ip Pak Wa.

K.O.S.B.: Shears; Gardiner and Reeves; Everest, Dawy and Skiggs; Torrie, Stock, Cook, McGlinchey and Alexander.

Fung King Cheong was still absent from South China and Yee Chuck Wa led the attack. The K.O.S.B. attacked from the kick off but Pau Ka Ping dealt with all shots sent in. The K.O.S.B. played with vigour and goals were frequent, probably due to the keenness of the players of both teams. The visitors took the lead from a penalty kick taken by Everest. This was the only goal of the first half.

The second half opened with the same keenness while the pace was a killings one. In a scramble near South China's goal area, the ball came out to Torrie who added with a fast rising shot giving the visitors a two goals lead. There was no further scoring. The match was one of the K.O.S.B.'s best exhibitions this season.

R.A. v. H.K.F.C.

At Sookunpoo, the visitors were without Stewart and Wallington. The R.A. came out on top by two clear goals. The teams:—
R.A.: Fletcher; Oliver and Bason; Oliver, Joyce and Gardner; Cotton, Gill, Allan, Jobe and Fredericks.
H.K.F.C.: G. Rodger; Holmes and Bishop; Gilchrist, Massey and Watson; Alexander, Reid, Goldman, Davies and Scott.

The Club gave a disappointing display. The Gunners won by two goals to nil.

The Gunners were early attacking and Allan opened their score. The Club were soon in the R.A. area but failed to press home their attack. Gill scored for the R.A. and the Gunners were two up at the interval.

The second half opened with a bout of midfield play, the middle lines holding the opposing attacks. Goldman was closely watched by Joyce who was in the R.A. pivotal position. Cotton got away on the R.A. right and presented Fredericks with an easy chance but the winger failed to turn the ball towards Rodger. Fletcher had little to do in the second half as the visitors' attack was weak and disappointing.

ST. JOSEPH'S v. SOMERSETS.

This game was played on the H.K.F.C. ground and ended in a win by the narrow margin of a penalty goal in favour of the Somersets. The Saints have to thank Rocha their goalie for their escape from a heavy defeat for he gave a brilliant display against a snappy forward line. Hyder and Gomes played well at back but Butcher and Rayson, on the respective wings for the visitors left them standing and it was Rocha who got the ball away. In the second half of the game, Bewley Bull was well through when he was blocked down by Gomes in the penalty area and Knapp scored the only goal of the match from the spot.

Early in the game the Saints were unlucky for Jackson swinging over from the left, the ball was met by Kilbride who headed against the post with Hall out of position. Another chance came to the Saints when Hyder placed well from a free kick and Cobb headed inches wide.

After the Somersets had forced several fruitless corners, the College came again and Sousa banged in a shot that hit the upright and rebounded to Cobb who returned wide.

Resuming after the interval, Bewley Bull took the centre forward position. Butcher was prominent on the wing but had he centered the Somersets would have probably won by a good margin.

DIVISION II.

KOWLOON v. CHINESE "A."

Kowloon started off in fine style and raised the hopes of their supporters by finding the net early in the proceedings. Further goals by Bickford and Moss gave them a clear lead of three to nil at the interval. Easterbrook, Nicholls and Moss all played an excellent game. But Chinese "A" started the second half in irreconcilable style and soon had the Kowloon defenders well nigh run off their feet. Their lead gradually slipped away from them and just before the final whistle the visitors managed to get ahead by the odd goal in seven.

Chow Yui Ching, Chan Yui Kwai, and Pong Tak Sun (2) were the scorers for the visitors. Li Tong was again prominent in the Chinese side, as also was Pong Tak Sun. The match was most interesting to watch.

Kowloon	3
Chinese "A"	4

CHINESE "B" v. EWO.

Ewo are still without a point in the junior section, but they are gradually improving and did quite well on Saturday. The opening half was pretty even, although the home team should have taken the lead on several occasions. Chan Yui Po was in good form however in the Ewo goal, while Chan Mok Sin and San Ho Yin were dour defenders. The interval arrived with a blank score sheet, but Athletic soon took the lead on resuming through Leung-Tat Wing Hin Kim Hung scored a further goal.

Chinese "B"	2

SOMERSETS v. ST. JOSEPHS.

Played at Sookunpoo this match was keenly contested and ended in a draw, the teams sharing six goals. St. Josephs gave a vastly improved display and with a little luck would have claimed both points, for they were two goals ahead until within ten minutes of time.

Somersets made a great rally in the closing stages and managed to draw level after a most entertaining struggle. Gutterus (2) and Castilho were scorers for the Saints, while Mead, Dennard and Saverat got through for the Somersets.

Somersets	3
St. Joseph's	3

R.A. v. RECREIO.

At Kings Park the Gunners gave an improved display and had no difficulty in collecting both points at the expense of a weak Recreio team. Bridgeman (2), Reed, Taylor and Rogers were the scorers for the R.A., while Recreio responded once through Santos.

R.A.	3

SOUTH CHINA "B" v. K.O.S.B.

Played at Caroline Hill the Borderers resumed their winning vein and inflicted a smashing defeat upon a rather weak South China team. Bird appeared at centre forward for the Borderers and did extremely well, while Stevens and Crawley were also in form as were Barham, Charlton and Lovell. Stevens opened the score and Bird also got through before the interval, while Shuk Tak On replied for South China. The Borderers had matters all their own way during the concluding period and added four more goals. Crawley (2), Rhodes and Stevens being the marksmen.

H.K.F.C. RES. v. SOUTH CHINA "A."

Played on the H.K.F.C. ground, the visitors winning by ten clear goals. South China scored five goals in each half and missed from a penalty kick in the closing stages. Peers had several easy chances in the opening half and should have registered for the home team. Goals were scored by Chan Yui Tien (5), Ip Koon Ning (3) and Tam Kwong Pak (2).

UNIVERSITY F.C. v. R.A.M.C.

The R.A.M.C. threw away a couple of points by failing to field a full side against the University on the St. Joseph's ground. They fielded ten men only throughout the game. Goals by Wong and Oppenheim gave the University a two goals lead at the interval. The R.A.M.C. scored through Dodson and were unlucky to be a goal down when the final whistle sounded.

STAMP DUTY PROPOSALS.

TERMS OF NEW DRAFT BILL.

NO DIVIDENDS FOR UNREGISTERED OWNERS.

The "Objects and Reasons" of a Bill published in the current issue of the Gazette state that the Government intends to legislate on the basis of carrying out one of the recommendations of the recent Stamp Duties Committee.

The Committee, was appointed by the Government "to consider the amendment of the Stamp Ordinance with a view to preventing evasion of the stamp duty on share transactions and of the estate duty on shares forming part of the estates of deceased persons."

Two proposals were recommended by the Committee. The first, referred to as the dividend proposal, should, it was stated, tend to encourage the registration of transfers at the time of each declaration of dividend, and the second proposal should make it easier for the Estate Duty Commissioner to ascertain whether shares standing in the name of a deceased are part of his estate or not. The second proposal also embodied a provision auxiliary to the first proposal, as it made a deceased's estate liable for contraventions of the dividends section.

To Prevent Passing on Dividends.

Section 6 of the amending Ordinance introduces a section unanimously recommended by the Committee. It is intended to prevent the passing on of dividends to unregistered shareholders and reads as follows:

29A.—(1) No person shall be entitled to claim, directly or indirectly, the payment of any dividend, or of the amount or value of any dividend, on any share on a share register which is by law required to be kept within the Colony, unless (a) such person is the registered owner of the share in question, at the time of such claim, or (b) such person was the registered owner of the share in question at some date subsequent to the declaration of the dividend in question, or (c) such person is entitled to be paid such dividend under a bona fide declaration of trust in favour of a specified person or firm, or otherwise as a bona fide cestui que trust, or (d) such person has bona fide lent money on the security of the share in question and is entitled by the express written terms of the loan agreement to claim such dividend.

When Demand and Payment are Illegal.

(2) No person shall, orally or in writing demand or request, or accept, directly or indirectly, payment of any dividend, which under the provisions of sub-section (1) he is not entitled to claim.

(3) No person shall, directly or indirectly, pay any dividend, or the amount or value of any dividend, on any share on a share register which is by law required to be kept within the Colony, to any other person unless (a) such other person is the registered owner of the share in question, or (b) such other person was the registered owner of the share in question at some date subsequent to the declaration of the dividend in question, or (c) such other person is entitled to be paid such dividend under a bona fide declaration of trust in favour of a specified person or firm, or otherwise as a bona fide cestui que trust, or (d) such other person has bona fide lent money on the security of the share in question and is entitled by the express written terms of the loan agreement to claim such dividend.

(4) For the purposes of this section, notwithstanding any declaration of trust or agreement whatsoever, no unregistered beneficial owner of any share shall be deemed to be entitled as a cestui que trust to be paid any dividend on such share by any previous registered owner of such share.

(5) Every person who contravenes any of the provisions of this section shall upon summary conviction be liable to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or not exceeding the total amount of the dividend in question, whichever limit be the greater.

Further Alterations of the Law.

Other proposed amendments are as follows: Exemption (b) to Heading No. 16 in the Schedule to the principal Ordinance exempts "trust receipts given to a banker." The intention evidently was to exempt such documents from stamp duty altogether, but it has been suggested that it might be arguable that a trust receipt given to a banker, while not

THE ST. LEGER CANDIDATES AT WORK.

HIAWATHA, LITTLE THUNDER, MAJESTIC HALL AND GRAND TATTOO EVE.

INCIDENT ON THE COURSE.

[By "MORNING DEW"]

What probably will comprise the field for the St. Leger on Saturday next were seen at work last Saturday morning. Hiawatha, covering the full distance of a mile and three-quarters and Little Thunder going over a mile and a half. Majestic Hall and Grand Tattoo Eve went over a mile, and as opinion seems divided as to Hiawatha's chances after Saturday's gallop, I will refrain from making any comment beyond stating that the time for this pony's gallop, over the last 1 1/4 miles is as follows: 1.21, 2.02 3/4, 2.40 1/4, 3.18 1/2 and 4.12. Little Thunder's time for 1 1/2 miles is as follows: 38.2, 1.15.2, 1.50, 2.23.3, 2.55. It will be seen that Hiawatha's last quarter was 31.3 seconds against Little Thunder's 31.2.

Grand Tattoo Eve was not pushed, and his last quarter was 33.2.

RAW SILK MARKET.

liable to duty as a declaration of trust, is liable to duty as a mortgage, under the provisions of section 3 (3) which lays down that an instrument which is chargeable under more than one heading in the Schedule shall be charged under that heading which imposes the highest duty. Section 3 of this Ordinance accordingly adds to the definition of the term "mortgage" words which exclude from the meaning of that term "trust receipts given to a banker."

Heading No. 24 in the Schedule to the principal Ordinance, which deals with the stamp duty on leases, does not provide for the case where the term of the lease is indefinite. Section 10 of this Ordinance supplies this omission.

Heading No. 24 in the Schedule to the principal Ordinance is open to another objection also, in that it makes the stamp duty on the surrender, or a lease the same as the duty on the lease. This seems to be inequitable and might work considerable hardship in some cases. Apparently in England the stamp duty would be only the ordinary deed stamp of 10s. Section 11 of this Ordinance makes the stamp duty on surrender of a lease the same duty as would be payable on a lease for the residue of the term surrendered, and consideration for surrender being regarded as premium.

Heading No. 29 in the Schedule to the Stamp Ordinance makes the stamp duty on any additional or substituted security 10 cents for every $100 of the principal sum secured. This seems unnecessarily heavy, as the value of any additional security might be quite small in comparison with the total sum secured. Accordingly section 12 of this Ordinance provides that the duty in such a case shall be 10 cents for every $100 of the value of the additional or substituted security. Section 12 also alters the language of the second column of this sub-heading which left something to be desired.

The intention evidently was to exempt such documents from stamp duty altogether, but it has been suggested that it might be arguable that a trust receipt given to a banker, while not while Majestic Hall finished in 22 seconds. Both were moving nicely, and so far as I can see now, the St. Leger will rest between these four animals.

The reduced weights allotted to some of the "A" class ponies accustomed to carry heavy penalties (like San Francisco) may account for some upsets of form next Saturday, but with this point I shall deal more fully in due course.

There was a nasty accident last Saturday when Sunning ran into (I would not say "crashed" into) a sub of this season. Both riding boys were unseated, and beyond a severe shaking were none the worse for their experience. The ponies apparently were not injured.

The times "clocked" on the course last Saturday were as follows:—

LESSON SERMON.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST HONG KONG.

"Adam and fallen man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 10.

The Golden Text was: "Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves: we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture" (Ps. 100: 3).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. To him all inheritance is incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you. Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation." (1 Pet. 1: 3-5).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science text-books, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Through discernment of the spiritual opposite of materiality, even the way through Christ, Truth, man will reopen with the key of divine Science the gates of Paradise which human beliefs have closed, and will find himself unfallen, upright, pure and free." (P. 171).

HOME FOOTBALL RESULTS.

HEAVY SCORING IN THE ENGLISH LEAGUE.

BLACKBURN ROVERS SECURE EIGHT GOALS.

SATURDAY'S MATCHES.

Football matches in the English League on Saturday produced a total of 194 goals, of which 124 were scored by home teams. There were 23 home wins, nine away wins, and nine drawn games.

Second Division visiting teams fared the worst, Cardiff City, only taking full points while three others shared them.

There was some high scoring in all divisions, Blackburn's 8-3 against Burnley being an outstanding performance. Oldham Athletic scored six goals to nil against the Wolves in Division II. Plymouth-Luton 6-1, Swindon-Southend 3-1, Torquay-Walsall 3-2, Carlisle-Chesterfield 6-0 were some of the best returns by Third Division teams.

Leeds United, Division I, leaders, were beaten, and would have lost the premier place to Manchester City but for the latter's draw at Grimsby. Blackpool and Oldham Athletic are keeping close together and the latter may still regain their lost place. Plymouth and Port Vale at the top of their respective sections are breaking away from the rest.

Eight Scottish visiting teams were beaten, Falkirk being the only successful team, while Kilmarnock had to fight hard for one point. Aberdeen continue to lead with the Rangers close on their heels.

DAILY WATERFRONT NEWS.

A NEW BRITISH MOTOR VESSEL.

Arriving here from Keelung, the British motor vessel Penrich Castle, paid her first visit to the port. She carried 120 tons of tea, for through ports.

The Penrich Castle is a new ship and was built this year by Messrs. Cammell Laird & Co., Ltd., of Birkenhead for the Lancashire Shipping Co., Ltd. (Messrs. J. Chambers & Company, managers). Her net tonnage is 3,067 tons and gross, 7,000 tons. She is propelled by oil engines which develop 6,000 H.P. Messrs. Dodwell & Company are local agents.

Captain J. R. Kelly is in command with a crew of 32, including 10 Britishers.

Missing at Sea.

The master of the s.s. Sunning (British) arriving from Tientsin and Swatow reports that an Indian deck passenger was found to be missing during the voyage from Shanghai to Swatow.

Foochow District Lights.

A notice to mariners states that the Oakes Light is about to be dismantled and replaced by a new and more powerful first order light, and that during the period of replacement two temporary lights will be exhibited from the balcony of the existing tower, one on the north side of the tower and the other on the south side.

The temporary lights will be exhibited on or about the 10th December 1929 without further notice, and will consist of six order acetylene flashing white lights giving a flash of 0.3 second duration every 3 seconds.

The lights will be visible in clear weather for a distance of about 10 nautical miles.

American Express Travelers Cheques

Definition of TRAVELLERS' CHEQUES—
"The system of Travellers' Cheques was originated in 1891 by the American Express Company with the object of creating a form of travel currency which would give the holder the security of a letter of credit and at the same time the convenience of local currency. The Company registered the cheques under the trade name of 'AMERICAN EXPRESS TRAVELLERS' CHEQUES' the word 'Travellers' being spelled with one 'l'. The advantage of the Cheques was so apparent that other banking institutions adopted the system."

Quoted from Pitman's Dictionary of Banking by Wm. Thomson.
Issued in £10, £5, £2, and £1, and 2-5, and 2-10 denominations—bound in a small,
